The Honorable C. C. Torbert, Jr.
Chief Justice
Alabama Supreme Court

Dear Chief Justice Torbert:

In accordance with Section 12-5-10, Code of Alabama 1975, I am pleased to present the Annual Report for the Alabama Judicial System for the Fiscal Year 1985, which includes the period from October 1, 1984, to September 30, 1985.

During this fiscal year, the Alabama Judicial System has continued to make improvements in the quality of judicial services available to the people of our state. Significant advancements have been made in the areas of case, records, and jury management. The expansion of computer technologies and processes in the trial courts and at the Administrative Office of Courts has enhanced our capability to manage our court system with greater efficiency and increased economy.

Statistical information on the processing of cases in the circuit and district courts is again provided as an appendix to this report. These statistics are based on the fiscal year summaries for the state case reporting system as developed through case processing information prepared and submitted by the clerks and registers of our circuit and district courts. Statistical information on the work of the state's appellate courts, as provided by the clerks of the respective courts, is included in the main body of this report.

I sincerely hope that the information provided in this Annual Report will be of interest to the citizens of Alabama as well as those officials and other individuals who are directly involved in the operation of our state court system.

Sincerely,

Allen L. Tapley
Administrative Director
of Courts

IN REVIEW

New Judicial Building Recommended

A joint legislative/judicial committee has recommended the construction of a four story, 220,000-square-foot, judicial building to house the Alabama Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Court of Civil Appeals, the State Law Library, and the Administrative Office of Courts. The committee report stated that there is an urgent need to properly plan for and construct a new judicial building in order to consolidate the courts into one location and to organize them effectively so that their operations are complementary and supportive. Based on the committee's report, the 1985 Alabama Legislature appropriated funds for further planning and development of a schematic design.

In FY 1986, legislation will be submitted to request funding to complete the planning for the facility, to specify the method of financing for construction and to authorize the actual construction. If this legislation is enacted, actual construction on the new judicial building could commence during FY 1988, with completion scheduled for FY 1990.

Interagency Conference on Youth Planned

Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., appointed a Subcommittee of the Judicial Study Commission to make plans for the holding of an interagency conference on youth to be held during the summer of 1986. In addition to juvenile court judges, the Chief Justice appointed to the committee representatives of the Department of Pensions and Security, the Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation, the Department of Education, the Department of Youth Services, the Alabama Law Enforcement Planning Agency, and the Administrative Office of Courts.

While the primary objective of this committee is to make plans for the interagency conference, it will also serve as a vehicle to form a new cooperative partnership and improve coordination between the departments and agencies involved in providing services to the young people of Alabama.

Plans for the 1986 interagency conference as well as a list of needs for improvement in the juvenile area will be submitted by the committee to the Alabama Judicial Study Commission when it meets in December, 1985.

Committee Studies Sentencing Process in Criminal Cases

At the recommendation of the Alabama Judicial Study Commission, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., appointed a committee to analyze sentencing processes in Alabama and to make recommendations for legislative improvements and educational needs.

The committee chaired by Judge Joseph Phelps, 15th Judicial Circuit, undertook a preliminary survey of sentencing practices and procedures in five circuits -- the 1st, 10th — Birmingham, 15th, 18th, and 37th. The committee did find some variation in procedures among the various circuits. Most of these variations, however, were the result of unique local factors including the availability of staff support in the district attorneys' and the probation offices.

The committee recognized the need for greater coordination between the courts and parole and recommended the holding of a joint conference on sentencing. This conference would bring judges and parole officials together to discuss issues of mutual concern including the post-sentencing collection of court costs, fines, fees, and restitution, and the development of restitution centers, innovative work release programs, pretrial diversion programs, intensive probation supervision programs, and other innovative programs for reintegrating the defendant into the community, etc.

The committee also recommended that the Alabama split sentencing law be revised to allow the use of split sentencing in cases where a sentence of fifteen years or less is given, as opposed to the then-limit of ten years or less. Additionally, it was recommended that the maximum period of confinement under the split sentencing act be increased from one to three years. Legislation to this effect was introduced and enacted during the 1985 Second Special Session of the Alabama Legislature.

Circuit Judge John W. Davis chairs meeting of the Interagency Committee on Youth.

Members of the Circuit Judges' (l) and District Judges' (r) Weighted Caseload Committees meet at the Administrative Office of Courts to review weighting methods used in other states.

Weighted Caseload and Time Standards to be Established

Separate committees of circuit and district judges were appointed by Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., to develop recommendations on a weighted caseload system and time standards. The first consideration of each committee was the development of a weighted caseload system to be used in evaluating needs for additional judges. During this fiscal year, both committees reviewed methods used for determining weighted caseload systems in other states and agreed on conducting a Delphi survey to determine time estimates required in developing the weighted caseload system. The Delphi survey on time estimates was developed by the staff at the Administrative Office of Courts and each circuit and district judge was given an opportunity to participate. To supplement the Delphi survey, members of the circuit judges' committee maintained timesheets on all cases processed in their courts during a sample three-month period. The Delphi survey is scheduled to be completed in early 1986. Following a review of the survey results, the committees will finalize their recommendations in a report to the Supreme Court.

A second consideration of both the circuit and district judges' committees will be the establishment of time standards for the processing of cases. While the weighted caseload study will involve measuring or estimating judge time spent on a case, the time standards study will analyze the total lapse time from filing to disposition for each major type of case in the circuit and district courts. A study on the development of time standards will be initiated during FY 1986, following the submission of recommended weighted caseload system to the Supreme Court.

Video Playback Equipment Made Available to the Courts

As a result of the passage of Act 85-743, which provides for the use of video-taped depositions and/or closed circuit television testimony of victims and witnesses under the age of 16 in child abuse cases, video playback equipment will be provided to each court site in Alabama.

The video playback equipment, consisting of a television monitor and a one-half inch VHF playback unit, will be available to all courts by early 1986. The courts are not being provided video cameras. Under the 1985 Act, it is the responsibility of the parties to provide the video-taped depositions to the court.

This 1985 Act also provides for the submission of testimony at the trial through the use of closed circuit equipment. The party requesting the use of closed circuit equipment is responsible for making all necessary arrangements for the equipment and its operation.

Although the video playback equipment is being specifically purchased for use in child abuse cases, the equipment has potential use for other court activities. Currently, the Administrative Office of Courts is assessing the feasibility of developing a juror orientation videotape which could be used in place of the current slide presentation. A report on the feasibility of such a presentation will be made during the next fiscal year. Additionally, the Alabama Judicial College is preparing to expand its videotape library. Videotapes will be available to judges, clerks, and other court employees in conducting in-house educational training sessions.

Retired Judges Continue Assistance to State Personnel Board

Retired Alabama judges continue to save the state thousands of dollars by serving as hearing officers in employee appeals to the Alabama State Personnel Board.

This fiscal year, retired judges heard 37 employee appeals. As the participating retired judges serve at additional compensation, receiving only the standard state per diem for travel, the services generate substantial savings for the state personnel board as well as the state in general. Since 1982 when this service was initiated, retired judges have heard an estimated 169 appeals.

The reduction of hearing officers' expenses is not the only benefit generated by the retired judges' participating in this program. Currently, the retired judges are hearing appeals within 60 to 90 days of the date of filing. Because a speedy hearing can be assured, the potential liability of the state for back pay is significantly reduced.

Retired judges who served this year as hearing officers are Ingram Beasley and Thomas E. Huey, Jr., Birmingham; Walter G. Bridges, Bessemer; Newton B. Powell, Decatur; and Cecil H. Strawbridge, Vernon. Other retired judges who were available for service include William Byrd, Alexander City; and Eris Paul, Elba.

Jury Systems Continue to Improve

During FY 1985, five additional counties adopted the one-step juror summoning process, raising to 49 the number presently using the one-step system. A total of 89,357 juror summons were issued by the Administrative Office of Courts this fiscal year.

The Administrative Office of Courts is providing automated services to 13 counties who utilize the two-step qualifications/summoning process. Under this process, the Administrative Office of Courts produces and mails qualification questionnaires to prospective jurors. These qualification questionnaires are then returned to the local jury commission for qualification and later summoning. During fiscal year 1985, a total of 38,638 qualification questionnaires were produced and distributed by the Administrative Office of Courts.

COUNTIES USING ONE-STEP JUROR SUMMONING
Fiscal Year 1985

During this fiscal year, 3,310 juror trials were held in Alabama. Of these, 1,686 were criminal trials and 1,377 were civil trials. In 247 trials, a settlement was reached after the formation of the jury and no verdict was rendered. The cost for jury services per trial slightly increased during this fiscal year. In Alabama, jurors receive $10 a day for each day of service as a juror and receive a mileage allowance of five cents a mile. In FY 1985, $1,880,362 was spent in payment of service to jurors. This equates to an average cost per trial of $568, an increase of $37 per trial or 7 percent over the figure reported for the previous year. Since FY 1982, however, the average juror cost per trial has decreased by $31, or 5.2 percent. The 25th Judicial Circuit (Marion and Winston counties) reported the lowest cost per jury trial of $292, followed closely by the 20th Judicial Circuit (Henry and Houston counties) which reported an average juror cost per trial of $294.

In Alabama, jury commissioners, who are appointed by the Governor, are responsible for the development of the county's master juror list, which is to be reviewed and corrected once every four years, and the preparation of the master juror box, which must be emptied and refilled during every even-numbered year. Jury commissioners are paid $10 for each day they are actually engaged in the discharge of their duties. Prior to 1983, jury commissioners could meet at their own call provided their total annual service did not exceed maximum rates of compensation as established by state law. Legislation enacted in 1983 retained the maximum levels of compensation but also required that the presiding circuit judge issue a written order authorizing the commission to meet.

During FY 1984, the first full fiscal year this legislation was in effect, jury commission expenses decreased by $97,261, or 49 percent. During this fiscal year, jury commission expenses decreased by an additional $82,310, or 81 percent. For FY 1985, jury commission expenses totalled only $18,768. The substantial decrease in jury commission expenses from FY 1984 to FY 1985 can be attributed to the fact that 1985 was an odd-numbered year and jury commissioners across the state were not required to meet to refill the master juror boxes as required by law. Jury commission expenses during the next fiscal year will increase to reflect this additional activity.

Another factor which significantly contributed to the decrease in jury commission expenses was the implementation of the one-step juror summoning and qualification process. Under the one-step system, juror qualification questionnaires and summons can be electronically produced and distributed by the Administrative Office of Courts, thus significantly reducing the clerical workload of the jury commissions. Currently, the one-step system is being utilized in 49 of Alabama's 67 counties.

Since 1982 and the enactment of the one-step qualification and summoning process and the subsequent changes in procedure for payment of jury commissioners, the cost of providing jury commission services has decreased by $328,756, or 94.6 percent.

Official Court Reporter Committee Established

During FY 1985, Allen L. Tapley, Administrative Director of Courts, appointed a research committee of official court reporters to identify areas of concern and prepare recommendations for the improvement of official court reporting services. The committee, chaired by Laura Calvert, Birmingham, recommended a change in the length of appeal transcripts from 14 inch to 11 inch size paper. This recommendation was submitted to and approved by the Supreme Court's Appellate Rules Committee and will be submitted to the Supreme Court for consideration. Other issues addressed by the court reporters include adjustments in the current page rate for transcription, the use of computer-aided transcription, and the revision of the Court Reporters Manual.

Fair Trial Tax Fund Ends Year with Deficit

For the first time since FY 1982, the state fair trial tax fund ended the fiscal year with a deficit. This year, revenues collected in the trial and municipal courts totalled $4,406,369 and disbursements totalled $4,854,391, producing a deficit of $448,022. These figures do not include a cost of $49,812 charged by the State Comptroller's office for administering the fund. Including these administrative costs, the total deficit for the state fair trial tax fund totalled $497,834.

This significant deficit in the state fair trial tax fund is primarily a result of legislative changes enacted during FY 1984. These changes included the removal of a $1,000 maximum for attorney fees on claims involving habitual offender and capital cases, the removal of the ceiling on the amount of expenses which may be claimed, and the provision for an additional $1,000 in attorney fees if certiorari was granted by the Supreme Court. The FY 1984 legislation also provided up to $50,000 annually to the State Comptroller's office for the administration of the fund.

ALABAMA FAIR TRIAL TAX FUND
Revenues, Disbursements, and Surpluses
FY 1982 - FY 1985

	FY 1982	FY 1983	FY 1984	FY 1985
Revenues	$4,473,668	$4,493,690	$4,587,393	$4,406,369
Disbursements	$4,238,266	$4,405,257	$4,574,225	$4,854,391
Surplus/(Deficit)	$ 235,402	$ 88,432	$ 13,168	($448,022)

In 17 of the state's 39 circuits, revenues collected for the fair trial tax fund exceeded disbursements. The 37th Circuit (Lee County) led the state in generating a surplus of $63,520. The 8th Judicial Circuit (Morgan County) reported the second highest surplus of $54,611, followed by the 5th Circuit (Chambers, Macon, Randolph, and Tallapoosa counties) with $48,668. The 28th Judicial Circuit (Baldwin County) reported the 4th largest surplus of $43,462.

Of the total fair trial tax fund revenues generated during this year, $182,895 was collected through the court-appointed attorney fees recoupment program. By law, the courts are provided the authority to require convicted defendants to reimburse the state for court-appointed attorneys' fees when defendants are financially able. The FY 1985 recoupment figure is 25 percent higher than collections reported for the previous year. The 37th Circuit (Lee County) also led the state in recouping the largest percentage of court-appointed attorneys' fees.

Creation of Judicial Records Center Recommended

During FY 1985, with assistance from the National Center for State Courts, the Administrative Office of Courts completed an assessment of its records management program. One of the major recommendations of this study was the development of a judicial records center. Based on this recommendation, the Administrative Office of Courts conducted a survey of all circuit clerks, district clerks, and registers. Over 67 percent of the survey respondents indicated a support for the creation of the records center. Based on the survey and on-site visits to assess local storage needs in selected courts, it was determined that a records center should have an adequate capacity to handle 18,000 cubic feet of court records. A preliminary budget for the records center including both recurring and non-recurring costs has been developed. A preliminary program and facility planning for the new judicial records center will be completed during FY 1986.

Larry Forston, (r) records management supervisor for the Administrative Office of Courts, and Circuit Clerk Kenneth Austin (l) review the retention status of records stored in Lauderdale County.

Records Maintenance and Retention Schedules to Be Revised

In 1980, the Supreme Court of Alabama adopted a records maintenance and retention schedule for the state's trial courts. With the exception of juvenile records, the schedule describes each type of court record found in each courthouse and designates the length of time records should be retained and the type of disposition to be made. During FY 1985, the records management staff of the Administrative Office of Courts initiated an analysis of the records retention schedules. Based on this study areas needing revision have been identified, and the judicial records retention committee is being reactivated. These issues will be addressed during FY 1986.

During FY 1985, a records retention schedule was developed for municipal court records. This retention schedule addresses approximately 80 percent of the records presently kept by the municipal courts. The records retention schedule will be presented to the State Records Commission at its first meeting during FY 1986.

Microfilming Services Consolidated at Administrative Office of Courts

Since the implementation of the UJS microfilming program, dual microfilming facilities were maintained in Montgomery at the Administrative Office of Courts and at the Department of Archives and History. During this fiscal year, microfilming services in the Montgomery area were consolidated at the Administrative Office of Courts. The acquisition of additional space at the Administrative Office allowed for the consolidation of this service which has greatly increased the productivity and efficiency of the unit. During this fiscal year, microfilming services for Lee and Russell counties were completed, and new microfilm programs were initiated for Shelby, Colbert, Lauderdale, and Macon counties. Existing microfilm programs in Jefferson, Mobile, and Madison counties were evaluated and needed microfilm standards initiated.

This year, 1,669,803 images were microfilmed, which is the equivalent of approximately 1,928 cubic feet of hard copy records. The microfilming unit increased its productivity by 12 percent this year despite the downtime caused by the relocation of facilities. As of the end of the year, 3,898 rolls of microfilm had been placed in security storage.

Microfilming staff and services consolidated at the Administrative Office of Courts.

Level II DUI Court Referral Program Directors meet at the Administrative Office of Courts.

Administrative Office Coordinates DUI Court Referral Programs

The Administrative Office of Courts has responsibility for the coordination of DUI court referral schools in Alabama. Currently, 25 agencies operate DUI schools which are located in 56 separate locations throughout the state. Each year, approximately 1,700 individuals are referred to these DUI schools. Of these, approximately 400 will be evaluated and referred for treatment of serious alcohol abuse problems.

To ensure the quality of DUI schools, the individual agency's programs are assessed on the quality of instructional services, as well as the management of the court referral program. Additionally, all DUI instructors must be certified by the Administrative Office of Courts. In FY 1985, 19 new instructors were certified and 73 individuals attended in-service training provided by the municipal court section of the Administrative Office of Courts in conjunction with the Alabama Judicial College. During this fiscal year, ten DUI agencies were evaluated for compliance in program management as well as classroom instruction.

DUI Committee Recommends Creation of Court Referral Officers

To deal more effectively with DUI defendants with serious alcohol dependencies, the Administrative Office of Courts has encouraged the development of Level II DUI court referral programs. These programs are designed to develop means to accurately identify problem drinkers and establish systems of referrals to assist them.

In February, 1985, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., appointed a DUI Court Referral Program Committee. This committee, chaired by District Judge Val L. McGee, Dale County, was charged with the responsibility of developing a model for the overall court referral program including identifying the individual program components, developing a service plan for each component, and establishing means for evaluating such services.

It was the recommendation of the committee that a model court referral officer program be developed and initiated on a pilot basis in Dale, Montgomery, Morgan, and Clarke counties. Under the pilot program, court referral officers would be provided to assist all judges in that area in identifying and coordinating services for those persons with serious alcohol dependencies.

Utilizing nationally validated tests such as the Mortimer/Filkins examination along with other information, the court referral officers will evaluate all DUI defendants to determine their present level of alcohol involvement. Based on this evaluation, the court referral officers will recommend to the judge an appropriate DUI or other treatment program for the defendant. In areas where public or private treatment programs are not available, the court referral officers will also be involved in the development of local community resources. After sentencing, the CRO will be responsible for keeping the judge informed on the progress of the defendants and notifying the court of any defendants who have failed to fulfill the requirements of their court ordered treatment program. The pilot court referral officer programs will be implemented October 1, 1985.

SJIS Network Expanded

During FY 1985, two additional courts were added to the State Justice Information System (SJIS) network. The SJIS network, which went on line in 1984, provides computer linkage between selected local courts and the Administrative Office of Courts' Judicial Data Center. Through the network, computerized court management services are available. The network initially served court sites in Etowah, Houston, Madison, Mobile, and Montgomery counties, as well as the Alabama Supreme Court. This year, computer services were extended to Tuscaloosa and Baldwin counties.

The basic programs provided through the SJIS network originally consisted of a case index system and criminal case tracking system. During FY 1985, five new systems were developed and implemented throughout the network. These systems include:

- The Civil Case Tracking System — Available to circuit civil, district civil, domestic relations, and small claims jurisdictions, this system monitors the progress of cases before the court and generates all major court forms, dockets, a variety of notices, and a number of management reports.
- The Attorney System — This system provides address and personal information on all members of the state bar and is used to provide information for notices from the civil system and assist the Clerk of the Supreme Court in the annual certification of attorneys.
- The Witness Subpoena System — Available to all jurisdictions of court, this system generates subpoenas for all witnesses and, if necessary, reissues the subpoena should the case be continued.
- The Court Payment System — This system records and receipts all transactions for restitution, partial payment, alimony, and child support payments. The system also disburses funds, maintains receipts/disbursement histories, and provides management reports on delinquent accounts. This system is still in the site-test mode.
- The Pending Issue System — Developed specifically for the Supreme Court, this system will track issues pending before the court, ensuring that the opinions rendered are consistent.

During the next fiscal year, the SJIS network will be expanded to include Lee, Lauderdale, and Jefferson counties — both Birmingham and Bessemer divisions. With the inclusion of these counties, the network will serve those courts in which 50 percent of all case actions are annually filed.

New systems which are scheduled for development during the next fiscal year include a warrant issuance program, a district criminal case tracking system, and a sentence monitoring program. The implementation of these three systems will further permit court officials to manage a case from its inception to its ultimate conclusion.

Judicial Data Center Increases Support to Trial Courts and the Administrative Office

The Alabama Judicial Data Center, which is located within the Administrative Office of Courts, increased its level of support to the trial courts and the administrative office during this fiscal year. Currently, the center maintains 23 operational systems; 9 of which were developed during FY 1985.

The State Judicial Information System network (SJIS) serves over 100 terminals and 13 printers at six court sites around the state. An additional 30 terminals and 6 printers are housed at the Administrative Office of Courts. To more effectively serve the growing demand for automated services, the mainframe computer in the judicial center was upgraded during FY 1985. This upgrading triples the speed of operation and allows work to be processed in a much shorter period of time.

Use of Electronic Cash Receipting Systems Expanded

To reduce the bookkeeping workload in the clerks' offices, electronic cash registers have been installed in 27 trial courts. These machines are primarily used in the district courts where the largest number of cases are filed and, therefore, the heaviest bookkeeping requirements occur. The electronic cash receipting system automatically produces receipts, stamps all money orders and checks for deposits, and generates a summary fee report which is posted to the cash book. All fees are preprogrammed to reduce computational errors.

A daily listing of all cases in which monies have been receipted along with other necessary financial data is also generated. In addition, the ECR provides an accounting of all cash and checks received. This report is used by the clerk's office in making daily deposits.

By eliminating the need for handwriting and posting all receipts, the use of the electronic cash receipting systems has greatly reduced the bookkeeping workload in the clerks' offices.

Paul Reese and Jimmy Blackwell of the Administrative Office's Judicial Data Center train employees in the Baldwin County Register's office on the use of the SJIS civil case reporting system.

Automated Services Available to Non-Network Courts

The Administrative Office of Courts through the Judicial Data Center provides automated services to courts which are not part of the judicial data network. One primary service is computerized case index support. Six counties are now utilizing automated systems available at the Administrative Office of Courts for the preparation of their case indexes.

Under this system, case index cards or books are transported to the Administrative Office of Courts for data entry. Following data entry, each of the counties receives a consolidated, alphabetized printed index for each jurisdiction of court. New entries are merged with the automated case index at least once a year. This system is especially helpful to those courts in which index books have been used because names under particular letters were listed chronologically rather than alphabetically.

At the close of FY 1985, more than 1.6 million entries had been made into the index system for both network and non-network counties.

Constable Identification Number Procedures Changed

During FY 1985, the Alabama Criminal Justice Information System determined that constables are not part of the National Crime Information Center's (NCIC) system. As a result, the Administrative Office of Courts accepted the responsibility for assigning and maintaining identification numbers for constables. These identification numbers are used in place of the NCIC number. The identification number is essential to ensure proper accountability of the uniform traffic citations.

The new system requires that constables file an information form with the Administrative Office of Courts prior to the receipt of any traffic tickets. Each constable must provide information on the date of his appointment or election as well as the date of the expiration of his term of office. This procedure allows for the improved distribution of traffic tickets to constables as well as increasing the potential for retrieval of tickets when a constable's term expires and he is not reappointed or reelected.

Alabama Participates in National Law-Related Education Program

The Alabama court system was recently selected to participate in the national law-related education technical assistance project. Funded by the U.S. Department of Education, this project was a cooperative endeavor of the Constitutional Rights Foundation, Law in a Free Society, and the National Institute for Citizen Education in the Law. These groups are nationally recognized for their promotion of law and court-related education in primary and secondary school systems throughout the United States and for their development of written and visual resource materials for teachers. Along with Alabama, programs were funded in Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, New Hampshire, Washington, and Wisconsin.

The objective of the seven state project is the "institutionalization" of law-related education in the public school system. Funding was made available under this project to provide technical assistance in the development of teaching objectives and in-service training to social studies teachers on the use of law-related materials in the classroom.

Thelma Braswell, (l) director of the Alabama Judicial College, assists Supreme Court Justice Oscar W. Adams, Jr., in presenting certificates to teachers completing the 1985 Teachers' Workshop on the Alabama Courts.

Teacher Workshop on the Alabama Courts Held

During FY 1985, thirty-two social studies teachers representing 25 school systems were given the opportunity to participate in a unique course of instruction on the law in courts in Alabama.

The 1985 Teacher Workshop on the Alabama Courts was held from July 28 through August 3, 1985, at the Judicial College in Tuscaloosa. This week-long course provided teachers comprehensive information on the structure and operation of the state court system, civil, criminal and juvenile procedures, and the operation and responsibilities of law enforcement and court-related agencies including the role and function of juvenile probation officers, the Department of Pardons and Parole, the Department of Corrections, the Department of Youth Services, and the Attorney General's Office. In addition, Dr. Adolph Crew, Chairman and Professor of Secondary Education, College of Education, University of Alabama, provided instruction on teaching methods. Completion of the week-long workshop, however, did not end the coursework responsibility for the participating teachers. Under Dr. Crew's guidance, each teacher must develop an in-service training program for other social studies teachers within their school district.

Alabama Judicial College

The Alabama Judicial College, a division of the Administrative Office of Courts, sponsored fourteen conferences and assisted or co-sponsored three additional conferences. A total of 1,408 court officials and employees participated in the college conferences, where 230 hours of instruction were presented by 221 faculty members.

This year, Alabama served as the host state for the annual meeting of the National Conference of Juvenile and Family Court Judges. The staff of the judicial college provided assistance in preparing for this meeting which was held in July at Point Clear, Alabama. Fifty-two juvenile and family court judges from Alabama participated in this national meeting.

The judicial college staff also coordinates out-of-state education for judges and other judicial officials and employees. During FY 1985, a total of 144 individuals submitted applications to attend out-of-state training programs sponsored by such professional and educational institutions as the American Bar Association, the National Council of Juvenile Judges, the National Center for State Courts and Institute for Court Management, the National Judicial College, and the National Shorthand Reporters Association. Of these requests to attend out-of-state training programs, 136 applications were approved. Only 122 judges and officials, however, participated in the out-of-state education programs; 14 requests were cancelled after approval was granted.

Judicial College Moves to Montgomery

Since its inception in 1978, the Alabama Judicial College, Division of the Administrative Office of Courts, has maintained offices in both Tuscaloosa at the University of Alabama as well as in Montgomery at the Administrative Office of Courts. Effective September 17, 1985, all judicial college functions were relocated to the Administrative Office of Courts in Montgomery.

The decision to consolidate the judicial college services was based on the study of ways to gain more efficiency in the overall operation of the Administrative Office of Courts. The consolidation of judicial education offices will not alter any policies or operational procedures relating to the planning or conducting of judicial education conferences. It is anticipated that the district and circuit judges fall and spring judicial seminars will continue to be held in Tuscaloosa. These seminars, however, will most likely be conducted at the new Law Center as opposed to Farrah Hall.

Tapley Receives Harley Award

On February 27, 1985, the American Judicature Society announced that it was presenting the Herbert Harley Award to Allen L. Tapley, Administrative Director of Courts, for his successful efforts to improve the administration of justice in Alabama. Tapley was nominated for this honor by U.S. Senator Howell T. Heflin and is only the sixth Alabamian to receive this award.

Tapley was cited specifically "for his endeavors in the area of court modernization in Alabama and his leadership in establishing the state Administrative Office of Courts as a competent, effective, and efficient department to provide administrative services for the state judicial system."

Precedent Setting Conference Held

The 1985 Mid-Winter Conference of Circuit and District Judges was a precedent-setting meeting. For the first time in the history of Alabama's Unified Judicial System, the state's appellate and trial court judges met with federal circuit and district judges and magistrates serving Alabama.

According to Judge John Godbold, Presiding Judge of the 11th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, this meeting was indicative of the improved relationship between state and federal judges which has come about in recent years. "Today's state and federal judges are learning from each other and borrowing and sharing ideas. We are lighting a lot of candles rather than cursing the dark. We are pursuing the end of justice, which is what our jobs are about."

Every federal district judge and magistrate in Alabama was in attendance at the meeting, as well as Presiding U.S. Circuit Judge Godbold and U.S. Circuit Judges Frank Johnson and Robert Vance.

Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., stated after the conference that "our joint discussions of habeus corpus and other issues have pointed out that our federal and state judges not only share common problems, but we have a mutual goal — that of enforcing and upholding the United States Constitution."

Judicial Finances

The Alabama courts are funded through state general fund appropriations and limited federal grant-in-aid programs. For FY 1985, state appropriations to the judicial branch totalled $59.2 million, including $53.3 million for the operation of the trial courts and the Administrative Office of Courts and $5.9 million for the appellate courts. For FY 1985, the budget for the Unified Judicial System, exclusive of the appellate courts, increased by $6.6 million, or 14.2 percent. Of this increase, $4.1 million was for legislative-mandated cost-of-living raises, and $1.3 million was for new judgeships authorized by the legislature. This left an actual operating increase in budget dollars of approximately $1.2 million, which represents only a 2.5 percent actual increase.

Federal assistance to the judicial branch was provided through the Office of Highway and Traffic Safety. Grants totalling $50,848 were awarded for implementation of traffic and educational programs for municipal and district court judges having traffic jurisdiction and non-attorney magistrates.

The Unified Judicial System generates revenues in the form of filing fees, fines, and forfeitures. For FY 1985, the courts reported revenues totalling $41.7 million, an increase of $1.7 million over revenues reported for the previous year. This approximate 5 percent increase in revenues can be attributed to a slight increase in case filings and to the impact of the Crime Victims' Compensation Program. FY 1985 was the first full fiscal year during which an additional court cost of $10 was assessed upon conviction in any criminal or quasi-criminal case for funding of the Crime Victims' Compensation Program, which became effective May 31, 1984. During the last four months of FY 1984, $235,986 was collected for the Crime Victims' Compensation Fund; during this fiscal year, $884,070 was collected. This increase of $648,084 accounts for approximately 40 percent of the total increase in revenues for the Unified Judicial System.

Revenues collected by the Unified Judicial System are distributed in accordance with state statutes. For this fiscal year, 75 percent of the total revenues reported, or $23.9 million, was transmitted to the State Comptroller. Of this amount, $20.2 million, or 64 percent of the total revenues, was earmarked for the state general fund, the major appropriation source for the Unified Judicial System.

Expenditures for the Unified Judicial System, exclusive of the appellate courts, totalled $53.3 million, an increase of 14 percent. This increase can be attributed to legislative-mandated cost-of-living raises and the provision for additional judgeships which increased the personnel expense of the Unified Judicial System by more than $6 million, or 16 percent.

THE COURT SYSTEM

Appellate Courts

The Alabama appellate courts consist of a Supreme Court and two courts of appeals: the Court of Civil Appeals and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Supreme Court

The Supreme Court, the highest state court in Alabama, is composed of a chief justice and eight associate justices, each elected statewide for a term of six years. The Supreme Court has the power to superintend and review any case tried, heard, or appealed in any other court in the state. It has exclusive appellate jurisdiction over all suits at law where the amount in controversy exceeds $10,000 and all appeals from orders of the Alabama Public Service Commission involving utility rates. The court has rule-making power and has authority to promulgate administrative regulations to ensure the efficient and speedy administration of justice. The Supreme Court may answer questions of state law certified by a court of the United States and is authorized by law to give advisory opinions to the governor and the legislature on important constitutional questions.

The caseload of the Supreme Court decreased slightly during FY 1985. A total of 2,123 cases was docketed with the Supreme Court this year. This represents a decrease of approximately 2 percent from the caseload reported for the previous year. The number of cases docketed includes 1,404 new filings and 719 cases which were carried over from the previous term of court.

A total of 1,446 cases were disposed by the court, of which 601 cases were disposed through the issuance of written opinions. This represents an average of 67 written opinions per justice.

In September, 1985, Associate Justice Thomas E. Embry, who was originally elected to the Supreme Court in 1974, retired. J. Gorman Houston was appointed by Governor George C. Wallace to fill this vacancy.

Court of Criminal Appeals

The Court of Criminal Appeals is a five-member body composed of a presiding judge and four judges. The court has exclusive appellate jurisdiction of all misdemeanors including violations of municipal ordinances, all felonies, and all post-conviction writs in criminal cases. The court also has original jurisdiction in the issuance of remedial writs necessary to give it general superintendence and control of jurisdictions inferior to it in matters over which it has exclusive appellate jurisdiction. Judgments of the Court of Criminal Appeals may be reviewed by the state Supreme Court by the granting of a petition for writ of certiorari. Capital cases are automatically reviewed by the Supreme Court.

During FY 1985, the total number of cases before the Court of Criminal Appeals increased by approximately 2 percent, from 2,240 cases the previous year to 2,280 cases. A total of 1,424 cases were disposed by the court. Of this number, 504 cases were disposed with opinions, 633 were disposed without opinions, and 287 cases were disposed en banc.

Of the cases disposed by the court, 17 percent, or 242 cases, were dismissed; 67 percent, or 949 cases, were affirmed; and 11 percent, or 160 cases, were either reversed and remanded or remanded with directions for additional trial action. Of the 1,424 cases disposed, the Court of Criminal Appeals reversed and rendered the decision in only 17 cases. This represents less than 1 percent of the total appeals disposed.

For several years, retired judges have been assigned to assist the Court of Criminal Appeals. Retired Circuit Judge Leigh M. Clark assisted the court on a full-time basis, and retired circuit judges Joseph J. Mullins and Walter G. Bridges provided part-time assistance. This year, the retired circuit judges assisted the court in disposing of 69 cases.

Of the 504 cases disposed with opinions, 448 were issued by the judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals, for an average of 90 opinions per judge. The remaining 56 opinions were prepared with the assistance of the retired circuit judges.

For the third year in a row, the Court of Criminal Appeals has undergone a change in the composition of the court. Judge John O. Harris, who was the senior judge on the court and whose term of office expired January 16, 1985, did not seek reelection. Henry W. McMillan, Jr., was elected to the position vacated by Judge Harris.

Court of Civil Appeals

The Court of Civil Appeals, composed of a presiding judge and two associate judges, was created by the Alabama Legislature in 1969. The court has original appellate jurisdiction in all civil appeals where the amount in controversy does not exceed $10,000, all appeals from administrative agencies other than the Alabama Public Service Commission, all appeals in workmen's compensation cases, and all appeals in domestic relations cases, including annulment, divorce, adoption, and child custody cases.

For FY 1985, the Court of Civil Appeals reported a total caseload of 803 cases. This figure includes 548 new filings and 255 cases which, at the close of the previous term, were either not ready for submission or on appeal to the Alabama Supreme Court.

The Court of Civil Appeals disposed of 516 cases. Of these cases, 347 or 76 percent were decided with opinions and 169 were decided without opinions. Of those cases decided with written opinions, 76 percent were affirmed; 16 percent were reversed; 5 percent were affirmed in part and reversed in part; and 3 percent were disposed by dismissal or petition for extraordinary relief granted or denied. All decisions of the court are made en banc. Each judge is required to review each case submitted to the court.

Of those cases submitted to the Court of Civil Appeals this fiscal year, 12 percent were argued and submitted and 88 percent were submitted on briefs. Of the orally argued cases, 58 percent were affirmed. Of those cases submitted on brief, 78 were affirmed.

There were 147 applications for rehearings. Of these, 104 petitions for certiorari were sought in the state Supreme Court. Of the petitions for certiorari submitted for review by the Alabama Supreme Court, 88 percent were upheld.

During this fiscal year, three retired circuit judges have provided assistance to the Court of Civil Appeals. Retired circuit judges Edward N. Scruggs and Robert M. Parker assisted the court on a full-time basis, and Retired Circuit Judge William I. Byrd provided part-time assistance.

Trial Courts

The Alabama trial courts consist of a court of general jurisdiction known as the circuit court, a court of limited jurisdiction known as the district court, a probate court, and such municipal courts as may be established.

Circuit Court

The circuit court is the state's trial court of general jurisdiction. The 67 counties in Alabama are divided into 39 judicial circuits which are composed of one to five counties. There are 124 circuit judges, and each circuit has from one to twenty-four resident circuit judges. By law, circuit court is held in every county in the state.

The circuit court jurisdiction, generally, is as follows:

- Civil—Exclusive original jurisdiction of all civil actions in which the matter in controversy exceeds $5,000 and original jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in civil actions in which the matter in controversy exceeds $1,000 exclusive of interest and cost.
- Criminal—Exclusive original jurisdiction of all felony prosecutions and/or misdemeanor or ordinance violations which are lesser included offenses within a felony charge or which arise from the same incident as a felony charge, except that the district court has concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court to receive pleas of guilty in felony cases not punishable by sentence of death.
- Juvenile—Original concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in proceedings involving the following: children alleged to be delinquent, dependent, or in need of supervision; traffic offenses transferred to juvenile court; determining custody or appointing legal custodian or guardian of a child who is otherwise before the court; removal of disability of non-age; interstate compact on juveniles; commitment of mentally ill or retarded children; adoption, when such proceedings are removed from probate court; and termination of parental rights.
- Appellate—Appellate jurisdiction of civil, criminal, and juvenile cases in district court and prosecutions for ordinance violations in municipal courts, except in cases in which direct appeal to the appellate courts is provided by law or rule. Appeals to the circuit court are tried de novo, with or without a jury, as provided by law.

All time highs were reported for both case filings and dispositions in the circuit courts during FY 1985. This year, circuit court filings increased by 4,257 cases, or 3 percent. All jurisdictions of the circuit court reported an increase in case filings. The largest increase was reported in the civil jurisdiction where filings reached their highest level on record.

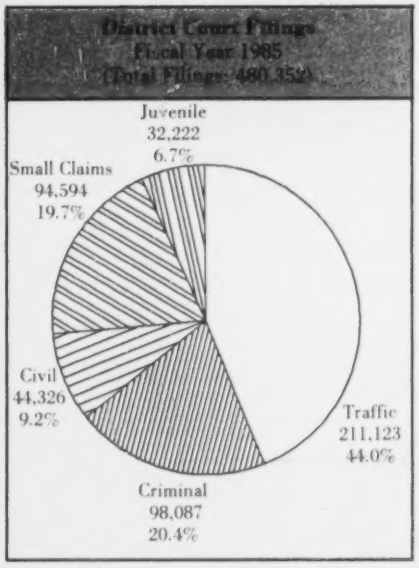
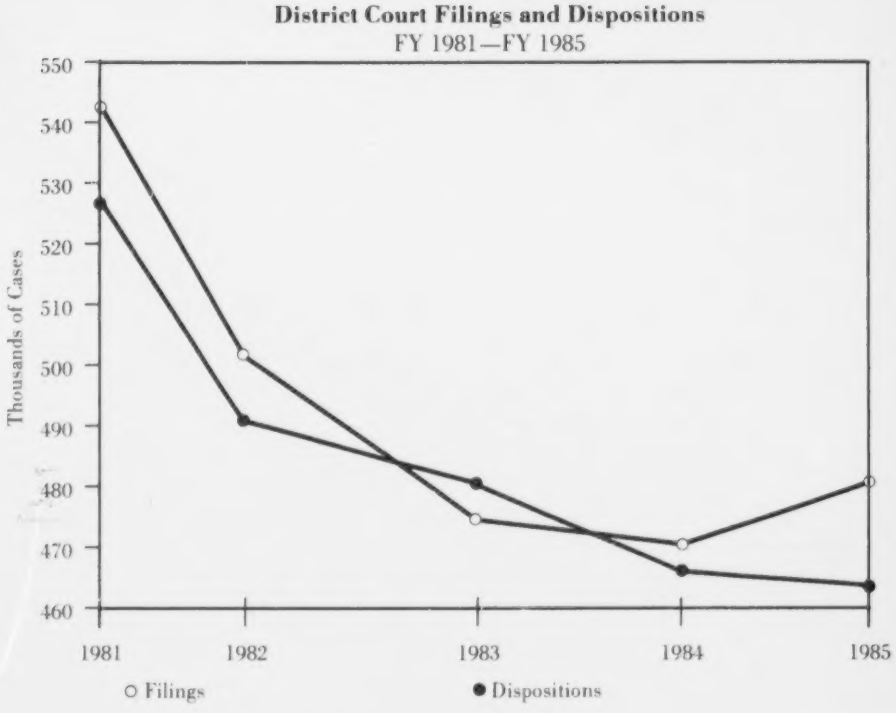
Case filing and disposition trends for the five-year period, FY 1981-FY 1985, are presented on the accompanying circuit court statistical table. As shown, over the five-year period, total circuit court case filings have increased by 1,336 cases, or 1 percent. The largest increase again was shown in the civil jurisdiction. Civil case filings increased from 28,460 in FY 1981 to 32,447 cases in FY 1985, an increase of 14 percent. Criminal case filings for the same period increased from 31,129 cases to 31,469 cases. This represents an increase in criminal filings of only 340 cases, or approximately 1 percent.

Case filings in the domestic relations jurisdiction of the circuit court have remained fairly constant through the years with only slight annual fluctuations. Over the five-year period, filings in the domestic relations jurisdiction decreased by slightly more than 1 percent. While case filings in the juvenile jurisdiction of the circuit court increased between FY 1984 and FY 1985 by 790 cases, or 4.4 percent, juvenile filings for the five-year period show a decrease of approximately 11 percent. In Alabama, the jurisdiction of juvenile cases may rest in either the circuit or district court. The decrease in juvenile court filings over the five-year period may partially be attributed to shifts in juvenile jurisdiction from the circuit to district courts which occurred in several circuits. For this same five-year period, the combined total juvenile caseload including both circuit and district court juvenile cases increased by 10 percent from 46,491 cases in FY 1981 to 51,169 in FY 1985.





Dispositions in the circuit courts also reached the highest level on record during FY 1985. This year, the circuit courts reported disposing of 130,621 cases. This represents an approximate 5 percent increase over figures reported for FY 1984. Over the five-year period, dispositions in the circuit court increased by 1,769 cases, or slightly more than 1 percent. The greatest increase in dispositions was reported in the criminal jurisdiction. Criminal case dispositions increased from 27,685 cases in FY 1981 to 31,685 cases in FY 1985, a more than 14 percent increase. The second highest increase in dispositions was reported in the civil jurisdiction where, over the five-year period, case dispositions increased from 27,827 cases to 30,879 cases. This represents an increase of 11 percent.

In the juvenile jurisdiction of the circuit court, dispositions increased between FY 1984 and FY 1985 by 2,587 cases, or approximately 14 percent. Over the five-year period, however, dispositions in the juvenile jurisdiction decreased by slightly more than 13 percent. The long-term reduction in juvenile dispositions may be partially attributed to the decrease in circuit court juvenile filings between 1981 and 1985.

The domestic relations division of the circuit court was the only jurisdiction which reported a decrease in dispositions between 1984 and 1985. Domestic relations dispositions dropped from 46,836 cases to 46,493 cases, a decrease of 340 cases, or less than 1 percent. Over the five-year period from FY 1981 to FY 1985, dispositions in the domestic relations division decreased by approximately 4 percent.

During this fiscal year, 19 of the state's 39 judicial circuits reported that they had disposed of more cases than were filed, thereby reducing pending caseloads. This represents a 12 percent increase over the past year in the number of circuits achieving this objective.

District Court

The district court is the state trial court of limited jurisdiction. The state's 67 counties are divided into 65 districts; two districts are each composed of two counties. There are 91 district judges, and each district has from one to eleven district judges. Additional district judge-

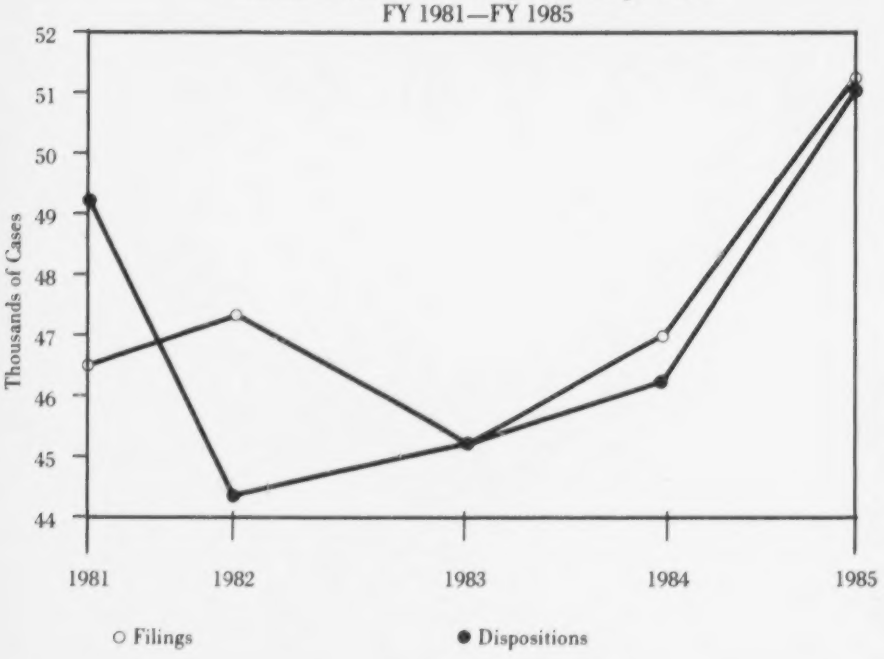
Combined Juvenile Filings and Dispositions
FY 1981—FY 1985



ships have been approved by the legislature for Clay, Cleburne, and Houston counties. These judgeships will become effective October 1, 1985. There is a district court in each county. Sessions of court are held in each county seat and in each municipality of 1,000 or more population where no municipal court exists. The district court is a non-jury court of record.

The district court jurisdiction, generally, is as follows:

- Civil—Original civil jurisdiction concurrent with the circuit court in civil actions in which the matter in controversy does not exceed $5,000 and civil actions based on unlawful detainer.
- Small Claims—Exclusive jurisdiction over all civil actions in which the matter in controversy, exclusive of interest and costs, does not exceed $1,000.
- Criminal Misdemeanors—Exclusive original trial jurisdiction over prosecutions of all offenses defined by law or ordinance as misdemeanors, except prosecutions by municipalities having municipal courts.
- Criminal Felonies—Original jurisdiction concurrent with the circuit court to receive pleas of guilty in prosecutions of offenses defined by law as felonies not punishable by sentence of death. Jurisdiction to hold preliminary hearings in prosecutions for felonies as provided by law.
- Criminal Traffic—Exclusive original jurisdiction of misdemeanor prosecutions for traffic infractions, except ordinance infractions prosecuted in municipal court.
- Juvenile—Concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court.

During FY 1985, for the first time since 1981, case filings in the district court increased. This year, case filings increased by 10,208 cases, or slightly more than 2 percent. A substantial increase in small claims filings and a more moderate increase in juvenile filings offset reductions reported in the traffic, criminal, and civil jurisdictions. The significant increase in small claims filings is attributable to the increase in the jurisdiction of the small claims court. Effective in January, 1985, the jurisdiction of the district court in small claims cases was increased to cover all actions which, exclusive of interest and cost, do not exceed $1,000. Prior to this time, the maximum limit was $500.

Between FY 1984 and FY 1985, case filings in the small claims court increased from 76,694 cases to 94,594 cases. This is an increase of 17,900 cases, or approximately 23 percent. At the same time, filings in the civil jurisdiction of the district court decreased by 7,479 cases, or approximately 14 percent. This decrease can also be attributed to the change in jurisdiction of the small claims court as many cases now being filed in the small claims court would previously have been filed in the civil division.

During this fiscal year, filings in the juvenile division of the district court increased by 12 percent, while the traffic and criminal divisions reported minor decreases.

Case filing and disposition trends for the five-year period from FY 1981 to FY 1985 are presented on the accompanying district court statistical table. Despite the minor increase in filings reported for 1985, over the five-year period, filings in the district court have decreased by more than 11 percent. The only jurisdictions of the district court to report increases in case filings for the five-year period were the small claims and juvenile jurisdictions. The increased filings in small claims cases can again be attributed to the change in jurisdiction of the court. In the juvenile jurisdiction, case filings increased from 25,105 cases in FY 1981 to 32,222 cases in FY 1985. This represents an increase of 7,117 cases, or 28 percent. As jurisdiction of juvenile cases in Alabama may rest in either the circuit or district court, this substantial increase in juvenile filings over the five-year period may partially be attributed to shifts in juvenile jurisdiction from the circuit to district courts which occurred in several counties. The combined circuit and district court juvenile filings, however, increased from 46,491 cases in FY 1981 to 51,169 cases in FY 1985, an increase of 10 percent.

The most significant decrease in filings over the five-year period is in the traffic jurisdiction. Since FY 1981, traffic filings have declined from 259,535 cases to 211,123 cases. This is a reduction of 48,412 cases, or approximately 19 percent. Other reductions in filings were reported in the criminal and civil jurisdictions.

Dispositions in the district court decreased by less than 1 percent over the last year. Increases were reported in the small claims and juvenile jurisdictions of the court, while decreases were reported in traffic, criminal, and civil. For the five-year period, FY 1981 to FY 1985, the number of cases disposed in the district courts decreased by 63,598, or approximately 12 percent. The only jurisdiction of the district court which registered an increase in case dispositions for the five-year period was the juvenile jurisdiction.

During FY 1985, eighteen of the state's 65 district courts reduced their pending caseloads by disposing of more cases than were filed.

Municipal Court

The municipal court is a court of limited jurisdiction established in each municipal corporation, except those municipalities which abolished their courts by ordinance in accordance with Section 12-14-1, Code of Alabama 1975. Currently, there are 278 municipal courts which are served by 221 municipal judges.

The jurisdiction of the municipal court, generally, is as follows:

- Jurisdiction over all prosecutions for the breach of municipal ordinances within its police jurisdiction.
- Concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of all acts constituting misdemeanor offenses under state law committed within the police jurisdiction of the municipality which may be prosecuted as breaches of municipal ordinances.

Where a municipality elects to abolish its court, the jurisdiction of the court is transferred to the district court. The district court is required to hold sessions in those municipalities where the municipal court has been abolished and the population is over 1,000. Any municipality which has abolished its court may subsequently reestablish the municipal court by ordinance.

In FY 1985, one municipality abolished its municipal court, and one municipality reestablished its court. Fifty-eight municipalities now utilize the district courts for the adjudication of ordinance violations.

Probate Courts

The probate courts in Alabama have original and general jurisdiction over the probate of wills, the granting of letters testamentary, the rights of executorship, the settlement of accounts of executors and administrators, the sale of estate properties, the appointment and removal of guardians for minors and persons of unsound mind, guardianships, allotments of dower and land, partition of lands within the respective county, and name changes. There is a probate court in every county. Several probate judges also serve as chairmen of their county commissions.

While constitutionally a part of the Unified Judicial System, the probate courts are not included in the budget for the Unified Judicial System and are administered locally by the respective probate judges. Funding for the probate courts is provided through the county governments or through fees generated in probate court.

Judicial Assignments

The Chief Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court has the authority to assign active trial judges outside their circuits and retired trial judges to duty in the appellate, circuit, district, and probate courts. The Supreme Court also has the authority to assign attorneys to these courts.

Active and retired judges may be assigned by the Chief Justice when circumstances require temporary service on the bench or to hear specific cases in which incumbent judges recuse themselves. In FY 1985, assignments for temporary service in all courts equaled 700 days. Additionally, active judges and attorneys, as well as retired judges, were assigned to hear 252 cases in the circuit court, 52 cases in the district court, and 15 cases in the probate court. Based on an average of two days per circuit court case and one day per district or probate court case, these case and temporary service assignments represent a total of 1,271 judge days or the equivalent of the service of an additional 5.6 judges. Of these assignments, 65 percent were accepted by 54 active circuit judges and 36 active district judges; 25 percent were accepted by 31 retired judges; and 10 percent were accepted by 20 attorneys appointed to serve as special judges by the Supreme Court. Periods of standby service are also performed by judges and attorneys. As this service is not recorded, statistics on lengths of service are not available.

In addition to additional case assignments, temporary service, and standby service, 12 retired judges have continued or accepted regular part-time assignments to circuit and district courts. Retired judges provided assistance to the circuit courts in the 10th, 12th, 13th, and 16th Judicial Circuits, as well as district courts in Jefferson, Marshall, and Mobile counties. These judges may be called to the bench by the local presiding judge whenever needed, and no separate statistics are available on the number of days they served or the number of cases they helped to dispose.

Retired judges continued to provide assistance to the intermediate courts of appeal. During FY 1985, three retired circuit judges assisted the Court of Criminal Appeals and two retired circuit judges assisted the Court of Civil Appeals.

Not included in the regular judge assignment statistics are the additional duties for selected district judges authorized by the Supreme Court; assignments of circuit and district judges within a circuit by the presiding circuit judge pursuant to Rule 13, Alabama Rules of Judicial Administration; assignment of attorneys to the District Courts of Jefferson and Mobile counties by the Supreme Court; or appointments of referees or general masters by judges to hear specific cases under the authority granted in the Code of Alabama, 1975 and certain rules of court.

While on judicial assignment, neither active nor retired circuit or district judges receive any additional salary or additional retirement compensation. Active and retired judges are reimbursed travel expenses as provided by statute for state employees. The current per diem and mileage rates, however, frequently do not cover basic expenses incurred by these judges when they provide bench service under assignment.

Additional judge services, provided by active trial judges accepting out-of-circuit assignments and retired judges on active duty, provide direct benefits to the Alabama judiciary and the people of the state by helping to ensure that the dockets of the court throughout the state remain current.

Clerks and Registers

There is an office of the circuit clerk in every county and in the Bessemer Division of the 10th Judicial Circuit. The duties of the circuit clerks include the issuance of process and the maintenance of all court records as required by law or by rule in their respective courts. In FY 1985, separate registers' offices for the processing of equity cases were located in 15 counties.

The Supreme Court may authorize the appointment of a district court clerk who is responsible for issuance of process and maintenance of all court records as required by law or by rule in the district court. Separate district clerks' offices have been established in six counties. These counties are Calhoun, Cullman, Montgomery, Morgan, Mobile, and Tuscaloosa. Except as authorized by the Supreme Court, the circuit clerk serves as ex officio clerk of the district court.

COURT ORGANIZATIONS

Judicial Discipline

Alabama has a two-tiered system for judicial discipline: the Judicial Inquiry Commission which investigates complaints brought against judges; and the Court of the Judiciary which hears charges brought by the Judicial Inquiry Commission. The current two-tiered system was established in December, 1973, to replace a single-tiered Judicial Commission which had been created two years earlier.

Judicial Inquiry Commission

The Judicial Inquiry Commission is the body which hears and investigates complaints of misconduct brought against judges of the state. It has the authority to conduct investigations and receive or initiate complaints concerning any judge in the state judicial system. Where warranted, the Commission may file a complaint with the Court of the Judiciary charging a judge with a violation of any canon of judicial ethics, misconduct in office, or failure to perform his duties. The Commission may also charge that a judge is physically or mentally unable to perform his duties. The Commission has subpoena power and the authority to appoint and direct its staff. Investigations of the Commission are confidential.

The Commission is composed of one appellate judge appointed by the Supreme Court, two circuit judges appointed by the Association of Circuit Judges, two attorneys appointed by the State Board of Bar Commissioners, and two non-lawyer citizens appointed by the Governor. Commission members are appointed for terms of four years and serve without pay.

During 1985, the Judicial Inquiry Commission considered 126 complaints which resulted in 32 investigations. One complaint was found to have insufficient evidence; 63 were without sufficient cause or basis; 38 were outside the jurisdiction of the Commission; 4 complaints were resolved by the Commission through meeting with the judge in question; and 19 complaints are pending. One complaint was resolved when the judge in question retired. In one case, the Judicial Inquiry Commission filed formal charges with the Court of the Judiciary.

Since its creation in 1973, the Judicial Inquiry Commission has considered 987 complaints. Of these complaints, 274 resulted in investigations. Sixty-three complaints were found to have insufficient evidence; 185 were without sufficient cause or basis; 638 were outside the jurisdiction of the Commission; 13 complaints were cancelled, 50 complaints were resolved by the Commission through meeting with the judge in question; and three complaints were resolved when the judge in question retired. Sixteen complaints were resolved by the filing of formal charges with the Court of the Judiciary.

Court of the Judiciary

The Court of the Judiciary is a five-member body which hears complaints filed by the Judicial Inquiry Commission. The Court is composed of one appellate judge who is selected by the Supreme Court and serves as chief judge of the Court, two circuit judges appointed by the Association of Circuit Judges, and two members of the state bar appointed by the Board of Bar Commissioners.

The Court has the authority, after notice and public hearing, to remove from office, suspend without pay, censure, or apply such other sanctions as prescribed by law to any judge for a violation of a canon of judicial ethics, misconduct in office, or failure to perform his duties. The Court may also suspend, with or without pay, or retire a judge who is physically or mentally unable to perform his duties. Decisions of the Court of the Judiciary may be appealed to the state Supreme Court which reviews the record of proceedings on the law and the facts. The Supreme Court adopts rules governing the procedures of the Court. Counsel for the prosecution of cases before the Court is provided by the state attorney general's office. The clerk of the Court of Civil Appeals serves as secretary of the Court of the Judiciary.

One complaint was filed with the Court during 1985. This case is scheduled to be heard in December, 1985.

Judicial Compensation Commission

Alabama's Judicial Compensation Commission is a constitutional body charged with recommending the state salary and expense allowances to be paid all judges, except municipal and probate judges.

The Commission may submit a report to the legislature at any time within the first five calendar days of any session. To become effective, the report of the Commission must be confirmed by a joint resolution of both houses. The legislature may, by act, alter the Commission's recommendations.

The Commission consists of five members appointed for terms of four years: one appointed by the governor; one by the president of the senate; one by the speaker of the house; and two by the Board of Bar Commissioners. Members of the Judicial Compensation Commission cannot hold any other public or political party office nor can they be eligible for appointment to any state judicial office while serving or within two years of serving on the Commission.

The Judicial Compensation Commission's report to the 1985 Second Special Session of the Alabama Legislature was adopted. This report fixes the compensation of appellate court justices and judges in varying amounts above the total compensation, including state salaries and local supplements, of circuit court judges. The report also fixes the state compensation of district court judges at an annual amount $1,000 below the state salary for circuit judges. The report of the Judicial Compensation Commission will become effective October 1, 1986. The Commission had submitted a similar report to the 1985 Regular Session but it was not acted upon by the legislature.

The Commission also recommended that circuit judges receive whatever cost-of-living adjustment might be granted to state employees in 1985. No state employee cost-of-living raise, however, was authorized.

Judicial Study Commission

In 1971, the Alabama Legislature created a study commission on the Alabama judicial system for the purpose of continuously studying "the judicial system of the state, the courts of the state, the administration of justice in Alabama, criminal rehabilitation, criminal punishment methods and procedures, and all matters relating directly or indirectly to the administration of justice in Alabama and [making] recommendations thereto."

The Judicial Study Commission is a 32-member body. Membership includes the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house, the legal advisor to the governor, a member of the attorney general's staff, six members of the state senate, six members of the state house of representatives, and the members of the Judicial Conference. The Judicial Conference is composed of the chief justice of the Alabama Supreme Court, two associate justices, a judge from each intermediate court of appeals, three circuit judges, two district judges, two municipal judges, three lawyers, and one probate judge.

In addition, an advisory section consisting of three clerks and registers, three district attorneys, and three law enforcement officials has been established.

At its 1985 annual meeting, the Alabama Judicial Study Commission received reports and made recommendations on a number of issues affecting the state's courts and legal system. The Judicial Study Commission approved a recommendation to support the creation of an additional district judgeship for Houston County. This recommendation was based on a study prepared by the staff of the Administrative Office of Courts. Legislation to create this additional position was submitted to the Alabama Legislature and enacted during the 1985 Regular Session. This additional judgeship position will become effective on October 1, 1985.

The Commission also unanimously accepted a report from the Advisory Committee on Juvenile Probation Services. The Advisory Committee, chaired by District Judge Aubrey Ford, Macon County, recommended that the state court system assume all probation officers, clerical personnel and support staff involved in the intake and field supervision of juveniles. The Advisory Committee was established in response to a request from Governor George C. Wallace who expressed concern for the current state of juvenile probation services. In its report, the committee concluded that the problems in the delivery of probation services to juveniles in Alabama could only be addressed at the state level. Because of funding problems and the difficulties created by juvenile probation officers' reporting to the juvenile judge, the county commission, and the Department of Youth Services, the committee recommended that the juvenile probation system be administered at the state level by the judicial branch of government through the Administrative Office of Courts. Legislation to effect this change was submitted to the Alabama Legislature during its 1985 Regular Session but was not enacted.

The Judicial Study Commission also approved the establishment of a subcommittee on sentencing to assess the continuity in sentencing procedures throughout the state. The Commission further recommended that a meeting between circuit judges, adult probation officers, and district attorneys be held to discuss problems in the sentencing area and to develop ideas supporting a more uniform approach to sentencing.

In other action, the Commission approved a recommendation by the Administrative Office of Courts to authorize by court rule, rather than legislation, the delivery, in certain instances, of civil and criminal witness subpoenas by first class mail. Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., informed the Commission on the progress being made on the construction of the new judicial building.

SELECTED ACTS PASSED

FISCAL YEAR 1985

Act No. 85-517 — Pro Tanto Settlements. (Effective Date -March 21, 1985)
This Act amends §12-21-109, Code of Alabama 1975, to clarify and make certain that written pro tanto releases or discharges which reserve the claimant's right to proceed against others include judgments entered pursuant to pro tanto settlements.

Act No. 85-546 — New Judgeships. (Effective Date - March 21, 1985)
This Act establishes an additional circuit judgeship for the 21st Judicial Circuit (Escambia County) and for the 29th Judicial Circuit (Talladega County). It is further provided that Dale and Houston counties shall each have two resident district judges, creating an additional district judgeship in these counties.

Act No. 85-652 — Retarded Defendant Act. (Effective Date - July 1, 1985)
Under the provisions of this Act, following the arrest and detention of any person for a state offense, the defendant or state may file a verified affidavit with the court to establish that the defendant is mentally retarded. This affidavit may be used by the court in connection with decisions regarding bail hearings, determination of the place of detention, and ultimate disposition of the case. If the defendant is determined by the court to be mentally retarded. the judge may consider this condition in determining the need for pretrial release, conditions of release, and, if not released, placement during pretrial confinement consistent with his special status.

Act No. 85-743 — Videotape Depositions and Use of Closed-Circuit TV-Child Victims and Witnesses. (Effective Date - October 1, 1985)
This Act establishes procedures to be used in criminal prosecutions involving the sexual exploitation of children and in other prosecutions for sex offenses when the alleged victim is a child under the age of 16.
This legislation was enacted to protect certain child victims and witnesses by allowing the taking of testimony by videotaping and closed-circuit television and the use of anatomically correct dolls by the child when testifying. The Act provides that:

1. The court may allow leading questions at trial of any victim or witness who is under 10 years of age;
2. Upon motion of the district attorney, the court may order the taking of a videotaped deposition of a victim or witness under the age of 16. Such deposition will be entered into the record by the state in lieu of the direct testimony of the alleged victim/witness unless the court determines that its introduction will unfairly prejudice the defendant;
3. The district attorney must make all necessary arrangements for videotaping and is responsible for submitting cost bills associated with videotaping and the use of closed-circuit equipment to the state Comptroller for approval and payment from the fund entitled "court costs not otherwise provided for."
4. On motion of the State or defendant, the court may order that the testimony of any alleged victim or witness of a sex crime under 16 years of age shall be viewed and heard at trial by closed-circuit equipment;
5. In criminal or juvenile cases in which the defendant is charged with unlawful sexual contact or penetration with a child, the court shall permit the use of anatomically correct dolls or mannequins to assist a child victim or witness under 10 years of age in testifying;
6. $104,400 is appropriated to the Unified Judicial System to furnish courts with the necessary equipment to view videotaped depositions.

Act No. 85-793 — Judicial Compensation Committee Report. (Effective Date - October 1, 1986)
This Act adopts the Report of the Judicial Compensation Commission to the 1985 Special Session of the Alabama Legislature.
This Act establishes new rates of compensation for appellate and district court judges to become effective October 1, 1986. The Act also provides that circuit judges should receive any percentage increase or upward pay adjustment provided to state employees generally. No state employee raise, however, was enacted.

The Honorable C. C. Torbert, Jr.
Chief Justice
Alabama Supreme Court

Dear Chief Justice Torbert:

In accordance with Section 12-5-10, Code of Alabama 1975, I am pleased to present the Annual Report for the Alabama Judicial System for the Fiscal Year 1986, which includes the period from October 1, 1985, thru September 30, 1986.

This fiscal year, the Alabama Judicial System, like other departments and agencies of state government in Alabama, faced serious financial problems. Because of revenue shortfalls, Governor George C. Wallace in August declared a three percent proration of the General Fund, which is the funding source for the courts. To further compound this situation, the 1986 Legislature authorized a judicial system appropriation for the 1987 fiscal year which is five percent below the 1986 fiscal year appropriation.

In light of these financial restrictions, the Alabama Judicial System has taken aggressive steps to operate within its appropriations and to ensure that the citizens of our state continue to receive quality judicial services. Many of these actions are set forth in this Annual Report. The Alabama Judicial System will continue to make every effort to operate within these budget constraints. Our courts, however, cannot operate indefinitely at these reduced funding levels. The return of our courts to adequate levels of funding will ensure that present and future citizens of Alabama will continue to receive the best possible judicial services.

I sincerely hope that the information provided in this Annual Report will be of interest to the citizens of Alabama as well as those officials and other individuals who are directly involved in the operation of our state court system.

Sincerely,

Allen L. Tapley
Administrative Director
of Courts

LEGISLATURE CREATES AUTHORITY TO CONSTRUCT NEW JUDICIAL BUILDING

The Legislature, on the final day of the 1986 regular session, passed Senate Bill 373 which creates a Judicial Building Authority and authorizes the issuance of up to $40 million in revenue bonds to construct a new judicial building for the state.

The Authority consists of the governor, the chief justice, the lieutenant governor, the speaker of the House of Representatives, and the state finance director.

In 1984, the Legislature adopted a resolution creating a joint legislative-judicial committee to study the need for a new judicial building. That committee recommended the construction of a four-story, 220,000 square-foot judicial building to house the Alabama Supreme Court, the Court of Criminal Appeals, the Court of Civil Appeals, the State Law Library, and the Administrative Office of Courts.

SJIS NETWORK EXPANDED

The State Justice Information System (SJIS) network, which went on line in 1984, provides computer linkage between selected local courts and the Administrative Office of Courts' Judicial Data Center. Through the network, computerized court management services are available. The network initially served court sites in Etowah, Houston, Madison, Mobile, and Montgomery counties, as well as the Alabama Supreme Court. In 1985, computer services were extended to Tuscaloosa and Baldwin counties.

During FY 1986, courts in three additional counties--Lee, Lauderdale, and Jefferson--were added to the SJIS network. With the inclusion of these counties, the network now serves those courts in which 50 percent of all case actions are annually filed.

In FY 1986, the civil case tracking, index court payment, traffic, attorney, witness subpoenas, and jail systems were maintained and periodically enhanced to better fit the user's information needs. One new system, the Alabama Criminal System (ACS) was developed and implemented across the network. The ACS was designed to provide full support for all circuit and district criminal cases. The existing criminal case tracking system was discontinued after the ACS implementation.

CHIEF JUSTICE TO SERVE AS CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS OF THE STATE JUSTICE INSTITUTE

In the summer of 1986, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., was confirmed by the U. S. Senate to serve on the first board of directors of the State Justice Institute, a private, nonprofit corporation established by Congress to improve the administration of justice in state courts.

Chief Justice Torbert was one of nine persons nominated by President Reagan. He was elected by the members of the board of directors to serve as chairman for a three-year term.

Congress established the State Justice Institute as a non-profit corporation to further improvements in the administration of justice and the operation of state courts and to assure ready access to a fair and effective system of justice. The board of directors has complete control over the operations of the Institute.

FIRST INTERAGENCY CONFERENCE ON YOUTH HELD

For the first time in the history of Alabama, representatives of the courts, schools, social services, mental health, and youth services came together to learn about and to discuss improved methods of delivering services to youth.

The conference was the culmination of work by the Judicial Study Commission's Interagency Committee on Youth appointed by Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., and chaired by Montgomery County Family Court Judge John W. Davis.

The objective of the conference was to foster a new, cooperative partnership between those branches, departments, and agencies of government in Alabama which are charged with the delivery of services to youth-in-need and their families.

During the three-day conference, which was held June 25-27 at the Montgomery Civic Center, conferees heard judges, a juvenile justice consultant, and human resource and mental health professionals from Maine, North Carolina, Florida, Virginia, and Alabama. The conference agenda was designed to address the problems associated with the delivery of services to youth in Alabama and to look at innovative programs which are in use nationwide.

(l-r) David Schell, Martha Lockett, Billy Morgan, and Gloria Hall presented Dallas County's "Circle of Pain" program to interagency conference participants.

The conclusion of the conference was highlighted by the signing of an interagency agreement by the chief justice, the heads of the departments of education, mental health, youth services, and human resources, and the administrative director of courts. The interagency agreement pledges these agencies' support of an interagency committee on youth which would provide a permanent forum for youth service agencies to address mutual concerns and to develop joint plans for improving the delivery of services to the youth of Alabama.

CHILD SUPPORT COMMITTEE APPOINTED

In response to the 1984 amendments to the Social Security Act's Child Support Enforcement Title, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., appointed a 21-member committee to analyze the changes mandated by the amendments and to make appropriate recommendations. Chief Justice Torbert appointed Presiding Circuit Judge Clatus K. Junkin, 24th Judicial Circuit, Fayette, Alabama, as chairman of the committee. Membership on the committee includes circuit and district judges, district attorneys and special prosecutors, Department of Human Resources personnel, and family court administrative personnel.

This year, the committee's main focus was on the expedited process requirements of the 1984 amendments. These requirements mandate that 90 percent of all Title IV-D cases be disposed within 90 days from the time of service. Rather than elect to process these cases through a "quasi-judicial" or "administrative" process, the committee requested an exemption from the federal Office of Child Support Enforcement.

In accordance with the federal guidelines, the committee drafted a procedure by which the processing of Title IV-D cases would be monitored in each county to ensure that the 90%/90 day requirement will be met.

During the upcoming fiscal year, the Child Support Committee will focus its efforts on developing child support guidelines for use by judges in determining child support awards. Research indicates that the adoption of such guidelines increases the number of settlements and reduces the amount of court time spent on child support cases.

WEIGHTED CASELOAD REPORTS FORWARDED TO SUPREME COURT

In 1985, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., appointed separate committees of circuit and district judges to develop recommendations on a weighted caseload system and time standards. J. Edward Tease, Presiding Circuit Judge, 11th Judicial Circuit, and Charles A. Thigpen, District Judge, Hale County, were appointed chairmen of the committees. The weighted caseload systems will be used to supplement existing criteria for the determination of district and circuit court judgeship needs.

Both committees used a Delphi survey method to solicit responses from judges statewide. The actual survey was developed with the assistance of the staff of the Administrative Office of Courts. Each committee surveyed respondents three times. The averages of the responses were used as the basis for the committees' studies and findings. Both committees completed their studies on the weighted caseload systems during this fiscal year. The report of the circuit judges' weighted caseload committee has been submitted to Chief Justice Torbert. The district court judges' report will be submitted in October, 1986.

MUNICIPAL JUDGES AND UTC MANUALS DISTRIBUTED

During FY 1986, the Administrative Office of Courts' legal and municipal court operations staffs assisted in the development and distribution of a new municipal judges manual. This manual replaces the former municipal court manual which was developed in 1978 by the Alabama League of Municipalities. The new manual is designed as a comprehensive source of information for newly appointed municipal judges in Alabama.

THREE PERCENT PRORATION DECLARED BY GOVERNOR WALLACE

Effective August 7, 1986, Governor George C. Wallace declared a three percent proration on all annual appropriations from the state's general fund for the 1985-86 fiscal year. Funding for the Alabama trial court system for the balance of FY 1986 was reduced by approximately $1.7 million as a result of the Governor's action.

Because of this budget reduction, immediate action was taken to ensure the continued functioning of the judiciary. In a memorandum to all state court officials, Allen L. Tapley, Administrative Director of Courts, issued a series of guidelines which:

- Cancelled all requests for equipment where no purchase order number had been assigned.
- Cancelled all requests for increases in individual supply and forms budgets for the 4th quarter of 1986.
- Limited in-state travel to essential court operations and cancelled all travel relating to judicial committees.
- Limited the use of temporary bailiffs to only essential trial court work and cancelled the services of special court reporters for the remainder of the proration period.

In addition to the policy outlined, all court officials were requested to make every effort to reduce all other expenditures (i.e., juror costs, postage, long distance telephone charges, repairs, and maintenance).

As a result of these emergency guidelines, the judicial system was able to continue basic operations throughout the fiscal year ending September 30, 1986.

The Uniform Traffic Citation (UTC) manual was also revised by the staff of the municipal court operations division during this fiscal year. The revised manual includes changes in procedures and forms and provides explicit instructions for the use of the Uniform Traffic Citation. Approximately 1,600 manuals have been distributed to law enforcement agencies and court offices throughout the state.

JURY TRIALS AND JUROR EXPENSES

During FY 1986, 50 counties utilized the one-step juror summoning process. Under the one-step process, prospective jurors are sent a combined summons and qualification form. This process eliminates the two-step procedure of first mailing juror qualification forms and then later summoning qualified jurors to court. As a result of the extensive use of the one-step process, the cost of summoning jurors has been significantly reduced. A total of 86,576 juror summons were issued by the Administrative Office of Courts this fiscal year.

The one-step juror summons form was revised in FY 1986. As a result, when this revised summons form is put into use in FY 1987, a 60 percent per unit saving is anticipated. The new summons is a one-part, heat-sealed form which is easier and more economical to prepare than the pre-sealed data mailers now being used.

The Administrative Office of Courts is also electronically generating juror qualification forms for 14 counties which utilize the two-step qualification/summoning process. During fiscal year 1986, a total of 17,800 qualification questionnaires were produced and distributed by the Administrative Office of Courts.

Of the 3,338 juror trials held in Alabama in FY 1986, 1,711 were criminal trials, and 1,420 were civil and equity trials. In 207 trials no verdict was returned. Jurors receive $10 a day for each day of service and a mileage allowance of five cents a mile. In FY 1986, $1.8 million was spent in payment of juror fees. This equates to an average cost per trial of $539, a decrease of $33 per trial, or 5.8 percent less than the figure reported for the previous year.

In Alabama, jury commissioners, who are appointed by the governor, are responsible for the county's master juror list, which is to be reviewed and corrected once every four years, and the preparation of the master juror box, which must be emptied and refilled during every even-numbered year. Jury commissioners are paid $10 for each day they are actually engaged in the discharge of their duties. Since legislation enacted in 1983, the presiding circuit judge must issue a written order authorizing the commission to meet.

During FY 1986, jury commission expenses totaled $17,134, a decrease of $1,634 or approximately 9 percent from the previous year. Since FY 1982, jury commission expenses have decreased a total of $330,390 or 95.1 percent. The dramatic decrease in jury commission expenses is a result of the 1983 legislation requiring the presiding judge to order meetings of the jury commission and the widespread use of the one-step juror summoning process which has eliminated almost all of the clerical expenses associated with qualifying/summoning jurors at the local level.

Juror sequestration expenses for 1986 totaled $85,784, an increase of $2,357 or 2.8 percent over expenses reported in FY 1985. Juror sequestration costs, however, have been reduced by $87,531 or 50.5 percent since FY 1982.

The Administrative Office of Courts has developed a new juror orientation videotape which will be distributed to the courts in early 1987. This videotape presentation will replace the audiovisual slide presentations presently being used in courts throughout the state.

REDUCED 1986-87 BUDGET ADOPTED BY THE LEGISLATURE

The Alabama Legislature completed its 1986 regular session on April 28 by adopting a $389.3 million general fund budget, which is $25.6 million below the 1985-86 general fund budget of $415.1 million. The reduction in the trial court budget totaled $2.6 million, a 6.7 percent decrease for the 1986-87 fiscal year.

In the final budget document, the Legislature appropriated conditional appropriations to general fund agencies of $26.9 million. The trial court budget received $1.3 million of these conditional funds. Conditional appropriations can only be released by the governor if funds become available.

Allen L. Tapley, Administrative Director of Courts, immediately announced that the reduced 1986-87 appropriations would necessitate the following:

1. No merit raises for court employees during FY 86-87.

2. A 3.45 percent reduction in the supply budget from $1,853,568 to $1,789,575.

3. A 3.91 percent reduction in the equipment budget from $1,283,843 to $1,233,643.

4. Reduction of the budget category which contains petit and grand juror costs by $68,556.

5. No new positions to be created, effective immediately.

6. No judicial training and education during FY 86-87.

7. Reduction of in-state travel wherever possible.

8. Vacancies to remain unfilled wherever possible.

[illegible] cost [illegible]

[illegible] and officers were urged to analyze their court offices to determine if staffing and procedure changes could be made which would result in a more efficient and cost effective operation.

KEY AOC STAFF MEMBERS ASSUME NEW LEADERSHIP RESPONSIBILITIES

On March 3, 1986, Thelma F. Braswell, Director, Alabama Judicial College; Frank W. Gregory, Director, State Court Operations; and Hunter Slaton, Assistant Director, State Court Operations, assumed new assignments of leadership responsibility within the Administrative Office of Courts.

Ms. Braswell assumed the position of Director of Court Relations and is responsible, along with Robert Martin, Director of Administrative Services, for coordinating governmental relations with legislative and executive officials and for liaison with other national, state, and local groups, and professional associations. She also develops and coordinates all Administrative Office programs and publications designed to educate and inform the public.

Frank Gregory now serves as Director of the Alabama Judicial College program and as such manages the judicial education program for the officials and employees of the Alabama court system. Hunter Slaton is the Director of Court Assistance and has responsibility for coordinating technical and general court assistance and consultant programs for all Alabama courts.

INCREASE IN MICROFILM PRODUCTION ALLEVIATES SPACE PROBLEMS

This year, the Administrative Office of Courts' micrographic section increased its production by 38 percent, or 329,884 images. In all, the micrographic section filmed 1,479,687 images. This figure represents the filming of 55,069 case files.

The increase was the result of improved training and procedures and a change in policy from filming older bound docket books to filming case files. The older bound records were generally housed in off-site storage facilities so that their filming did not alleviate space problems within the clerk's offices. With the emphasis on filming case files, the cost of additional filing equipment has been avoided and case file information is more accessible and secure.

This fiscal year, security copies of the state court system microfilm were transferred from Flora, Mississippi, to Dothan, Alabama. The closer proximity of this new location to Montgomery has greatly increased the accessibility of the film and the cost of storing the security film is more economical.

FY 1982 - FY 1986

Revenues	$6,453,663	$6,431,630	$6,387,293	$6,406,969	$5,612,956
Disbursements	$6,238,766	$6,665,258	$6,335,223	$6,855,991	$5,662,459
Surplus/(Deficit)	$ 220,862	$ (35,432)	$ 51,163	($448,022)	($49,503)

FAIR TRIAL TAX FUND ENDS YEAR WITH DEFICIT

The state fair trial tax fund ended the fiscal year with a deficit of $49,503. For this fiscal year, revenues totaled $5,612,956. This includes $5,127,957 in revenues collected in the trial and municipal courts and an additional $485,000 which was appropriated from the state's general fund. Disbursements totaled $5,662,459, leaving a deficit of $49,503. These figures include a cost of $50,000 charged by the State Comptroller's office for administering the fund.

In 19 of the state's 39 judicial circuits, revenues collected for the fair trial tax fund exceeded disbursements. The 8th Judicial Circuit (Morgan County) led the state in generating a surplus of $49,909. The 23rd Judicial Circuit (Madison County) reported the second highest surplus of $43,517, followed by the 2nd Judicial Circuit (Butler, Crenshaw and Lowndes counties) with $38,774. The 25th Judicial Circuit (Marion and Winston counties) reported the 4th largest surplus of $36,750.

Of the total fair trial tax fund revenues generated during this year, $165,936 was collected through the court-appointed attorney fee recoupment program. By law, the courts are provided the authority to require convicted defendants to reimburse the state for court-appointed attorneys' fees when defendants are financially able.

PILOT COURT REFERRAL OFFICER PROGRAM IMPLEMENTED

On October 1, 1985, a pilot court referral officer program was implemented in Dale, Montgomery, Morgan and Clarke counties. Under the program, court referral officers provide assistance to municipal and district judges in screening and monitoring the treatment of DUI defendants who are identified as having serious alcohol or substance abuse problems. The court referral officers further assist judges by making recommendations on appropriate resources to which defendants with serious alcohol problems may be referred for counseling and treatment.

During the first ten months of this fiscal year, 1,194 DUI defendants were referred to the pilot programs. Of these offenders, 66 percent were 35 years of age or younger and 30 percent had prior alcohol-related arrests indicating some problem with alcohol. Only 12 percent of the offenders initially felt that they had an alcohol problem. Only 9 percent had ever sought help for their alcohol problem prior to meeting with the court referral officer.

While budget constraints may prohibit the expansion of this program during the next fiscal year, it is anticipated that court referral officers will be made available to all Alabama courts within the next five years. The success of these pilot programs has demonstrated that there is a definite need for court referral services in the courts.

RETIRED JUDGES CONTINUE TO ASSIST STATE PERSONNEL BOARD

Retired Alabama judges continue to save the state thousands of dollars by serving as hearing officers in employee appeals to the Alabama State Personnel Board.

This fiscal year, retired judges heard 17 employee appeals. As the participating retired judges serve without additional compensation, receiving only the standard state per diem for travel, their service generates substantial savings for the state personnel board as well as the state in general. Since 1982 when this service was initiated, retired judges have heard an estimated 186 appeals.

The State Personnel Board honored (l-r) Retired Circuit Judges Ingram Beasley and Tom Huey, Birmingham; Hunter Slaton, AOC; and Retired Circuit Judges Cecil Strawbridge, Vernon Walter Bridges, Bessemer.

The reduction of hearing officers' expenses is not the only benefit generated by the retired judges' participation in the program. With their assistance, speedy hearings can be assured, thus reducing the potential liability of the state for back pay.

Retired judges who served this year as hearing officers are: Ingram Beasley and Thomas E. Huey, Jr., Birmingham; Walter G. Bridges, Bessemer; Newton B. Powell, Decatur; William I. Byrd, Alexander City; and Robert E. Hodnette, Mobile.

TEACHER WORKSHOP ON THE ALABAMA COURTS HELD IN TUSCALOOSA

Thirty-four social studies teachers from 26 school districts attended the 1986 Teacher Workshop on the Alabama Courts which was held July 27-August 2, in Tuscaloosa at the University of Alabama Law Center.

Sponsored by the Administrative Office of Courts in conjunction with the University of Alabama, this week-long course provides teachers a comprehensive overview of the Alabama courts and legal system and stimulates workshop participants to develop and implement court and law-related programs within their respective school systems. Six semester hours of graduate credit in education are awarded teachers who successfully complete the workshop and in-service training program.

Dr. Dorothy Skeel of the Peabody College of Vanderbilt University conducts an in-service workshop on the use of law-related education materials for Dothan City social studies teachers and supervisors.

Since the first workshop was held in 1981, every school system in the state has been invited to send a teacher to participate. A total of 92 of the 129 school systems has participated, with 131 teachers attending.

JUDICIAL COLLEGE

The Alabama Judicial College, a division of the Administrative Office of Courts, is charged with sponsoring and coordinating initial and continuing education for judges, clerks, other court officials, and employees of the Alabama Judicial System.

This year the Judicial College sponsored 19 conferences and assisted in sponsoring 7 others. Attendance at this year's judicial conferences exceeded that of previous years. In all, 1,889 judges, court officials, and employees attended conferences where 271 hours of instruction were presented by 277 faculty members.

In 1984, the Judicial College instituted a judiciary certificate program. Under this program, certificates are awarded to judges who complete 190 hours of continuing education instruction offered by the Judicial College within a four-year period. The first 12 certificates of continuing judicial education were awarded during this fiscal year.

The judicial college staff also coordinates out-of-state education for judges and other judicial officials and employees. During FY 1986, a total of 93 requests to attend out-of-state judicial education and training programs was submitted to the college. Seventy-eight were approved. Sixty judicial and court support personnel completed training, while eighteen approved requests were cancelled because of budget reductions during the months of August and September.

On March 3, 1986, Frank W. Gregory, former Director, State Court Operations, was reassigned as Director of the Judicial College. Thelma P. Braswell, the former Director of the College, assumed a new assignment as Director of Court Relations for the Administrative Office of Courts.

Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., awards Certificates of Continuing Legal Education to (l) Circuit Judge Wadell Zarsky and (r) Circuit Judge Marvin Chernet.

District Judges (l) Gordon R. Batson, Escambia County; Fred R. Steagall, Dale County; Joel G. Holley, Chambers County; (r) Aubrey Ford, Jr., Macon County; Larry L. Pilcrin, Cleburne County; and Richard L. Osborne, Greene County, participate in orientation program for new judges.

JUDICIAL FINANCES

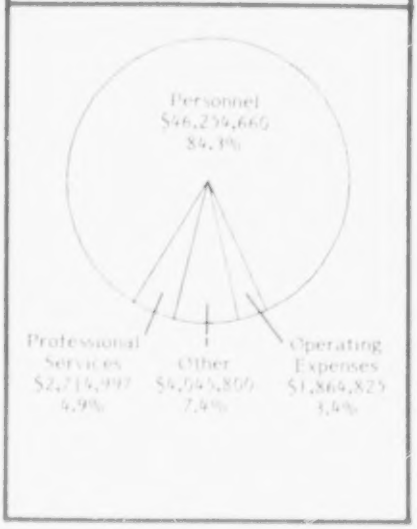
The Alabama courts are funded through state general fund appropriations. For FY 1986, state appropriations to the judicial branch totaled $62.7 million, including $6.1 million for the operation of the appellate courts and $56.6 million for the operation of the trial courts and the administrative office of courts.

Appropriations
Fiscal Year 1986

Supreme Court	$ 3,751,900
Court of Criminal Appeals	1,423,888
Court of Civil Appeals	992,200
Trial Courts and Administrative Office of Courts	56,377,610
Total	$62,744,698

For FY 1986, the trial courts received an initial appropriation of $55.7 million. Additional appropriations totaling slightly more than $860,000 were authorized to fund the purchase of video tape equipment required for use in child abuse cases and the funding of five new judicial positions, including one circuit judge for the 21st Judicial Circuit and four new district judgeships created to serve Clay, Cleburne, Dale, and Houston counties.

JUDICIAL EXPENSES
Exclusive of the Appellate Courts
($54,885,282)
Fiscal Year 1986



On August 7, 1986, Governor George C. Wallace, declared a 3 percent proration of the General Fund for the remainder of the fiscal year. As a result, funds available for use by the Alabama Judicial System were reduced by approximately $1.7 million.

The Alabama Judicial System generates revenues in the form of filing fees, fines, and forfeitures. For FY 1986, the courts reported revenues totaling $34 million, an increase of approximately $2.4 million over revenues reported for the previous year. This increase in revenues can be attributed to an increase in case filings.

Revenues collected through the trial courts are distributed in accordance with state statutes. For this fiscal year, 75 percent of the total revenues reported, or $25.5 million, was transmitted to the State Comptroller. Of this amount, $21.6 million, or 63 percent of the total revenues, was earmarked for the state general fund, the major appropriation source for the state judicial system.

Expenditures for the trial courts, exclusive of the appellate courts, totaled $54.9 million, an increase of $1.6 million, or 2.9 percent. This increase can be attributed to the creation of additional district judgeships, routine merit raises, and additional costs for employee benefits which increased the personnel expenses by almost $1 million, or 2.2 percent. Because of the increased filings, expenses for juror services increased by 6 percent.

MUNICIPAL COURTS ADDED TO RECORDS RETENTION SCHEDULE

A records retention and destruction schedule for the municipal courts was approved by the State Records Commission and the Supreme Court this year. This records retention schedule was developed by the Administrative Office's records management staff who worked in conjunction with the municipal court operations division staff. The schedule was reviewed by key municipal judges throughout the state prior to its submission to the State Records Commission. The municipal courts' records retention and destruction schedule was presented at the regional municipal court seminars this year and is currently being implemented in municipal courts throughout the state.

In other actions, the records retention schedule for the Unified Judicial System was amended to shorten the length of time local newspapers must be retained in the clerks' and registers' offices. Traditionally, newspapers have occupied large amounts of space in the vaults and offices of the clerks and registers.

The records retention staff of the Administrative Office of Courts is also researching the retention requirement for absentee election records and legislative acts and journals. It is anticipated that these records will be scheduled sometime next year.

In accordance with the records retention schedule, 2,658 cubic feet of court records were destroyed this fiscal year. This amount of records is equivalent to approximately 443 four-drawer file cabinets.

MARTIN RECEIVES JUDICATURE SOCIETY'S SPECIAL MERIT CITATION

In November, 1985, the American Judicature Society presented its Special Merit Citation to Robert Martin, director of Administrative Services at the Administrative Office of Courts.

Robert Martin

Martin was presented the citation for his efforts to improve the administration of justice in Alabama which have included his efforts toward passage of the Judicial Article and implementation act, for his work contributing to the enactment of the state's model juror legislation, and for his efforts to provide increased compensation for state judges and clerks of court and to increase the number of judges in the state. The society said Martin's work in public relations and educating the public about the courts "is in the first tradition of the American Judicature Society."

Martin was nominated for the award by U. S. Sen. Howell Heflin and the award was presented by Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., a member of the society's board of directors.

NEW JUDICIAL FORMS ANALYSIS AND REVIEW COMMITTEE APPOINTED

During this fiscal year, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., appointed a new Judicial Forms Analysis and Review Committee to review and revise, as necessary, all forms used in the state trial courts. Presiding Circuit Judge Claud Neilson, 17th Judicial Circuit, Linden, Alabama, was appointed as chairman of the committee. The committee consists of 19 members and includes circuit and district judges and clerks and registers. Staff support to the committee is provided by the Administrative Office's legal and records management staff.

The committee has reviewed all existing forms used in the state trial courts and has identified those forms needing revision. A majority of the revisions identified require only minor changes. It is estimated, however, that 20 percent of the existing court forms will require major revision.

The committee has adopted a series of priorities on form revisions. The first priority of the committee is to complete the revision of all one-part forms. Because of the reduced court budget for fiscal year 1987, all courts are urged to obtain these one-part forms from the Administrative Office of Courts. The expedited revision of these forms will allow this new guideline to be promulgated as soon as possible. The second priority of the committee will be to review multi-part forms as necessary. The committee has adopted a recommendation that all multi-part forms be revised to follow a color sequence which would allow the use of pre-collated NCR paper for printing. The third priority of the committee would be the revision of any remaining forms and the creation of additional forms, if necessary.

THE COURT SYSTEM

APPELLATE COURTS

The Alabama appellate courts consist of a Supreme Court and two courts of appeals: the Court of Civil Appeals and the Court of Criminal Appeals.

SUPREME COURT

The Supreme Court, the highest state court in Alabama, is composed of a chief justice and eight associate justices, each elected statewide for a term of six years. The Supreme Court has the power to superintend and review any case tried, heard, or appealed in any other court in the state. It has exclusive appellate jurisdiction over all suits at law where the amount in controversy exceeds $10,000 and all appeals from orders of the Alabama Public Service Commission involving utility rates. The court has rule-making power and has authority to promulgate administrative regulations to ensure the efficient and speedy administration of justice. The Supreme Court may answer questions of state law certified by a court of the United States and is authorized by law to give advisory opinions to the governor and the legislature on important constitutional questions.

The caseload of the Supreme Court increased by more than 7 percent, or 144 cases during FY 1986. A total of 2,267 cases was docketed with the Supreme Court this year. The number of cases docketed includes 1,590 new filings and 677 cases which were carried over from the previous term of court.

A total of 1,522 cases was disposed by the court, of which 627 cases were disposed through the issuance of written opinions. This represents an average of 70 written opinions per justice.

Case filings and dispositions in the Supreme Court for the five-year period including FY 1982 through FY 1986 are shown on the accompanying table. During this five-year period, filings in the Supreme Court increased by 570 cases or 34 percent. Dispositions also increased by 34 percent or 479 cases.

In April, 1986, Associate Justice James H. Faulkner retired from the Court. Henry B. Steagall II was appointed by Governor George C. Wallace to fill this vacancy.

COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS

The Court of Criminal Appeals is a five-member body composed of a presiding judge and four judges. The court has exclusive appellate jurisdiction of all misdemeanors including violations of municipal ordinances, all felonies, and all post-conviction writs in criminal cases. The court also has original jurisdiction in the issuance of remedial writs necessary to give it general superintendence and control of jurisdictions inferior to it in matters over which it has exclusive appellate jurisdiction. Judgments of the Court of Criminal Appeals may be reviewed by the state Supreme Court by the granting of a petition for writ of certiorari. Capital cases are automatically reviewed by the Supreme Court.

SUPREME COURT OF ALABAMA: Seated (l-r): Associate Justices Reneau P. Almon and Hugh Maddox, Chief Justice C. C. Torbert, Jr., Associate Justices Richard L. Jones and Janie L. Shores. Standing (l-r): Associate Justices Gorman Houston, Sam A. Beatty, Oscar W. Adams, Jr., and Henry B. Steagall II.

ALABAMA COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS: Judge John W. Patterson, Judge John C. Tyson III, Presiding Judge William M. Bowen, Jr., Judge Sam W. Taylor, Judge Henry W. McMillan, Jr.

ALABAMA COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS: Judge Robert Bradley, Presiding Judge L. Charles Wright, Judge Richard Holmes.

During FY 1986, the total number of cases before the Court of Criminal Appeals increased by 5 percent, from 2,280 cases the previous year to 2,393 cases. A total of 1,745 cases was disposed by the court. Of this number, 534 cases were disposed with opinions, 942 cases were disposed without opinions, and 269 cases were decided en banc.

Of the cases disposed by the court 74 percent, or 1,283 cases were affirmed; 13 percent, or 231 cases, were dismissed; and 10 percent, or 172 cases, were either reversed and remanded or remanded with directions for additional trial action. Of the 1,745 cases disposed, the court reversed and rendered the decision in only 14 cases. This represents less than 1 percent of the total appeals disposed.

This year, retired Circuit Judge Leigh M. Clark continued to assist the court on a full-time basis.

COURT OF CIVIL APPEALS

The Court of Civil Appeals, composed of a presiding judge and two associate judges, was created by the Alabama Legislature in 1969. The court has original appellate jurisdiction in all civil appeals where the amount in controversy does not exceed $10,000, all appeals from administrative agencies other than the Alabama Public Service Commission, all appeals in workmen's compensation cases, and all appeals in domestic relations cases, including annulment, divorce, adoption, and child custody cases.

For FY 1986, the Court of Civil Appeals reported a total caseload of 817 cases. This figures includes 530 new filings and 287 cases which, at the close of the previous term, were either not ready for submission or on appeal to the Alabama Supreme Court.

The Court of Civil Appeals disposed of 548 cases. Of these cases, 368 or 67 percent were decided with opinions and 180 were decided without opinions.

There were 145 applications for rehearings. Of these, 100 petitions for certiorari were sought in the state supreme court. Of the petitions for certiorari submitted for review by the Alabama Supreme Court, 89 percent were upheld.

During this fiscal year, Retired Circuit Judge Edward N. Scruggs assisted the court on a full-time basis.

TRIAL COURTS

The Alabama trial courts consist of a court of general jurisdiction known as the circuit court, a court of limited jurisdiction known as the district court, a probate court, and such municipal courts as may be established.

CIRCUIT COURT

The circuit court is the state's trial court of general jurisdiction. The 67 counties in Alabama are divided into 39 judicial circuits which are composed of one to five counties. There are 124 circuit judges, and each circuit has from one to twenty-four resident circuit judges. By law, circuit court is held in every county in the state.

The circuit court jurisdiction, generally, is as follows:

- Civil - Exclusive original jurisdiction of all civil actions in which the matter in controversy exceeds $5,000 and original jurisdiction concurrent with the district court in civil actions in which the matter in controversy exceeds $1,000 exclusive of interest and cost.

- Criminal - Exclusive original jurisdiction of all felony prosecutions and/or misdemeanors or ordinance violations which are lesser included offenses within a felony charge or which arise from the same incident as a felony charge, except that the district court has concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court to receive pleas of guilty in felony cases not punishable by sentence of death.

- Juvenile - Original concurrent jurisdiction with the district court in proceedings involving the following: children alleged to be delinquent, dependent, or in need of supervision; traffic offenses transferred to juvenile court; determining custody or appointing legal custodian or guardian of a child who is otherwise before the

- Appellate - Appellate jurisdiction of civil, criminal, and juvenile cases in district court and prosecutions for ordinance violations in municipal courts, except in cases in which direct appeal to the appellate courts is provided by law or rule. Appeals to the circuit court are tried de novo, with or without a jury, as provided by law.

All time highs were again reported for both case filings and dispositions in the circuit courts during FY 1986. This year, circuit court filings increased by 1,982 cases, or 1.5 percent.

All circuit court jurisdictions except juvenile reported an increase in case filings. The juvenile case filings decreased by 755 cases, or 4 percent. The largest increase was reported in the civil jurisdiction where filings reached their highest level on record.

Case filings and disposition trends for the five-year period, FY 1982-FY 1986, are presented on the accompanying circuit court statistical table. As shown, over the five-year period, total circuit court case filings have increased by 2,907 cases, or slightly more than 2 percent. The largest increase was reported in the civil jurisdiction. Civil case filings increased from 29,403 cases in FY 1982 to 33,984 cases in FY 1986, an increase of almost 16 percent. Criminal case filings for this period decreased by 863 cases, or 2.6 percent. Case filings in the domestic relations jurisdiction of the circuit court have remained fairly constant through the years with only slight annual fluctuations.

Over the five-year period, filings in the domestic relations jurisdiction increased by slightly more than 2 percent. Case filings in the juvenile jurisdiction of the circuit court decreased by approximately 9 percent. In Alabama, the jurisdiction of juvenile cases may rest in either the circuit or district court. The decrease in circuit court juvenile filings over the five-year period may be partially attributed to shifts in juvenile jurisdiction from the circuit to district courts which occurred in several circuits. For this same five-year period, the combined total juvenile caseload including both circuit and district court juvenile cases increased by 6 percent, from 47,265 cases in FY 1982 to 50,084 in FY 1986.

Dispositions in the circuit court also reached the highest level on record during FY 1986. This year, the circuit courts reported disposing of 133,207 cases. This represents a 2 percent increase over figures reported for FY 1985. Over the five-year period, dispositions in the circuit court increased by 9,343 cases, or approximately 8 percent. Substantial increases were reported in the civil and juvenile jurisdictions of the court. Civil case dispositions increased by almost 18 percent; juvenile dispositions increased by 17 percent. The criminal division of the circuit court was the only jurisdiction which reported a decrease in dispositions between FY 1982 and FY 1986. This almost negligible decrease in dispositions can be attributed to the reduction in the number of criminal cases filed in the circuit court during the same period.

During this fiscal year, 19 of the state's 39 judicial circuits reported that they disposed of more cases than were filed, thereby reducing pending caseloads.

DISTRICT COURT

The district court is the state trial court of limited jurisdiction. There is a district court in each county. Sessions of court are held in each county seat and in each municipality of 1,000 or more population where no municipal court exists. The district court is a non-jury court of record. There are 95 district judges, and each district court has from one to eleven district judges.

The district court jurisdiction, generally, is as follows:

- Civil - Original civil jurisdiction concurrent with the circuit court in civil actions in which the matter in controversy does not exceed $5,000 and civil actions based on unlawful detainer.
- Small Claims - Exclusive jurisdiction over all civil actions in which the matter in controversy, exclusive of interest and costs, does not exceed $1,000.
- Criminal Misdemeanors - Exclusive original trial jurisdiction over prosecutions of all offenses defined by law or ordinance as misdemeanors, except prosecutions by municipalities having municipal courts.
- Criminal Felonies - Original jurisdiction concurrent with the circuit court to receive pleas of guilty in prosecutions of offenses defined by law as felonies not punishable by sentence of death.
- Jurisdiction to hold preliminary hearings in prosecutions for felonies as provided by law.
- Criminal Traffic - Exclusive original jurisdiction of misdemeanor prosecutions for traffic infractions, except ordinance infractions prosecuted in municipal court.
- Juvenile - Concurrent jurisdiction with the circuit court.

Case filings in the district court increased dramatically during FY 1986. This year, case filings increased 57,492 cases, or 12 percent. Substantial increases were reported in small claims, traffic, and criminal jurisdictions. Case filings in the civil jurisdiction remained constant and a decrease in case filings in the juvenile jurisdiction of 1 percent was reported.

In January, 1985, the small claims jurisdiction of the district court was increased to cover all actions which, exclusive of interest and costs, do not exceed $1,000. Prior to this time, the maximum limit was $500. This new jurisdictional limit was effective for nine months during FY 1985. During that year, small claims case filings increased by 23 percent. FY 1986 represents the first full year of operation under the new small claims jurisdictional limits. This fiscal year, small claims filings increased another 22 percent.

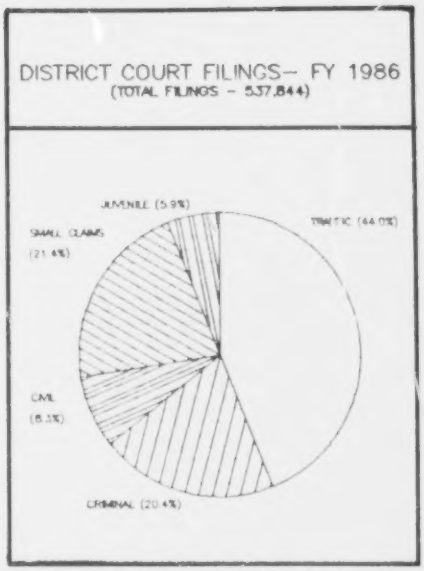
Following a sharp decline in FY 1985, filings in civil jurisdiction of the district court remained constant during this fiscal year. Marked increases in filings were also reported in the traffic and criminal jurisdictions. Traffic case filings increased by 25,505 cases, or 12 percent; and criminal case filings increased by 11,542 cases, or 12 percent.

The only jurisdiction of the district court to report a decrease in filings between FY 1985 and FY 1986 was the juvenile jurisdiction. Juvenile case filings decreased by 330 cases, or slightly more than 1 percent.

Case filing and disposition trends for the five-year period FY 1982 to FY 1986 are presented on the accompanying district court statistical table. The only jurisdiction of the district court to report a decrease in filings for the five-year period was the civil jurisdiction. This decrease in civil case filings is attributed to the change in jurisdiction in the small claims court as many cases now being filed in the small claims court would previously have been filed in the civil division. During the five-year period, filings in the small claims court increased by 36 percent, and juvenile cases increased by 17 percent. Both the traffic and criminal jurisdictions reported moderate increases of approximately 3 percent.

Dispositions in the district court increased by approximately 8 percent between FY 1985 and FY 1986. Increases were reported in the traffic, criminal, small claims, and juvenile jurisdictions. Case filings in the civil jurisdiction decreased by 9 percent, or 4,141 cases. For the five-year period, FY 1982 to FY 1986, the number of cases disposed in the district court increased by 7,506, or slightly more than 1 percent. Increased dispositions were reported in the small claims and juvenile jurisdictions, while minor decreases were noted in the traffic and criminal jurisdictions. During the five-year period, dispositions in the civil jurisdiction decreased by 26 percent or 14,917 cases. Again, this decrease can be attributed to the change in small claims jurisdiction and the shifting of cases between these two divisions of court.

During FY 1986, 14 of the state's 67 district courts reduced their pending caseloads by disposing of more cases than were filed.



MUNICIPAL COURT

The municipal court is a court of limited jurisdiction established in each municipal corporation, except those municipalities which abolished their courts by ordinance in accordance with Section 12-14-1, Code of Alabama 1975. Currently, there are 278 municipal courts which are served by 229 municipal judges.

The jurisdiction of the municipal court, generally, is as follows:

- Jurisdiction over all prosecutions for the breach of municipal ordinances within its police jurisdiction.

- Concurrent jurisdiction with the district court of all acts constituting misdemeanor offenses under state law committed within the police jurisdiction of the municipality which may be prosecuted as breaches of municipal ordinances.

Where a municipality elects to abolish its court, the jurisdiction of the court is transferred to the district court. The district court is required to hold sessions in those municipalities where the municipal court has been abolished and the population is over 1,000. Any municipality which has abolished its court may subsequently reestablish the municipal court by ordinance.

In FY 1986, five municipalities abolished their municipal courts, and three municipalities reestablished their courts. Sixty municipalities now utilize the district courts for the adjudication of ordinance violations.

PROBATE COURT

The probate courts in Alabama have original and general jurisdiction over the probate of wills, the granting of letters testamentary, the rights of executorship, the settlement of accounts of executors and administrators, the sale of estate properties, the appointment and removal of guardians for minors and persons of unsound mind, guardianships, allotments of dower and land, partition of lands within the respective county, and name changes. There is a probate court in every county. Several probate judges also serve as chairmen of their county commissions.

While constitutionally a part of the Alabama Judicial System, the probate courts are not included in the budget for the Alabama Judicial System and are administered locally by the respective probate judges. Funding for the probate courts is provided through the county governments or through fees generated in probate court.

JUDGE ASSIGNMENTS

The Chief Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court has the authority under the state constitution to assign active trial judges outside their circuits and retired trial judges to duty in the appellate, circuit, district and probate courts. The Supreme Court also has authority to assign attorneys to these courts.

Active and retired judges may be assigned by the Chief Justice to hear specific cases in which incumbent judges recuse themselves or when circumstances require temporary service on the bench. In FY 1986, assignments for temporary service in all courts equaled 762 days. Active judges and attorneys, as well as retired judges, were assigned to hear 239 cases in circuit court, 79 cases in district court, and 15 cases in probate or municipal court during the year. Based on an average of two days per circuit court case and one day per district, probate, or municipal court case, these cases and temporary service assignments represent a total of 1,334 judge days or the equivalent of 5.8 additional judges' service to the state courts. Fifty-seven percent of these assignments were accepted by 55 active circuit judges and 35 active district judges; 33 percent were accepted by 22 retired judges; and 8 percent were accepted by 31 attorneys and 1 active probate judge appointed to serve as special judges by the Supreme Court.

Periods of stand-by service are performed by judges and attorneys; however, as the service is not recorded, no statistics on length of service are available.

In addition to individual case assignments, temporary service, and stand-by service, retired judges have continued to accepted regular part-time assignments to circuit and district courts. Retired judges provide this assistance to the circuit courts in the 10th, 12th, 13th, and 16th Judicial Circuits, as well as the district courts in Jefferson and Mobile counties. These judges may be called to the bench by the local presiding circuit judge whenever needed, and no separate statistics are available on the number of days they have served or the number of cases they helped to dispose.

Retired circuit judges continue to provide assistance to intermediate courts of appeal. During FY 1986, one retired circuit judge assisted the Court of Criminal Appeals, and one retired circuit judge assisted the Court of Civil Appeals.

Not included in the regular judge assignment statistics are the additional duties for selected district judges authorized by the Supreme Court: assignments of circuit and district judges within a circuit by the presiding circuit judge pursuant to Rule 13, Alabama Rules of Judicial Administration; assignment of attorneys to the district courts of Jefferson and Mobile counties by special order of the Supreme Court or the appointments of referees or general masters by judges to hear specific cases under the authority granted in the Code of Alabama, 1975 and certain rules of court.

It should be noted that while on judicial assignment, neither active nor retired circuit and district judges receive additional salary or additional retirement compensation. They are reimbursed travel expenses as provided by statute for state employees.

Additional judge services, provided by active trial judges accepting out-of-circuit assignments and retired judges on active duty, provide direct benefits to the Alabama judiciary and the people of this state by helping to ensure that the dockets of courts throughout the state remain current.

A monitoring system for judicial assignments made by the Chief Justice has been developed.

With daily input, this computer program will provide a file by court or judge of all assignments, a monthly report of all assignments, and a six-month notice to all judges of their specially assigned caseload. The program will track status and disposition of all cases assigned by the Chief Justice from 1977 to date.

CLERKS AND REGISTERS

There is an office of the circuit clerk in every county and in the Bessemer Division of the 10th Judicial Circuit. The duties of the circuit clerks include the issuance of process and the maintenance of all court records as required by law or rule in their respective courts.

The Supreme Court may authorize the appointment of a district court clerk who is responsible for issuance of process and maintenance of all court records as required by law or by rule in the district court. Separate district clerk's offices have been established in six counties. These counties are Calhoun, Cullman, Montgomery, Morgan, Mobile, and Tuscaloosa. Except as authorized by the Supreme Court, the circuit clerk serves as ex-officio clerk of the district court.

In FY 1986, Dovie P. McCollum, Register, Madison County, and James A. Christopher, Register, Choctaw County, retired and assumed supernumerary status. The duties of these registers' offices were assumed by the respective circuit clerks, thus reducing the separate registers' offices for processing of equity cases to 13 counties.

COURT ORGANIZATIONS

JUDICIAL DISCIPLINE

Alabama has a two-tiered system for judicial discipline: The Judicial Inquiry Commission which investigates complaints brought against judges; and the Court of the Judiciary which hears charges brought by the Judicial Inquiry Commission. The current two-tiered system was established in December, 1973, to replace a single-tiered Judicial Commission which had been created two years earlier.

JUDICIAL INQUIRY COMMISSION

The Judicial Inquiry Commission is the body which hears and investigates complaints brought against judges of the state. It has the authority to conduct investigations and receive or initiate complaints concerning any judge in the state judicial system. Where warranted, the Commission may file a complaint with the Court of the Judiciary charging a judge with a violation of any canon of judicial ethics, misconduct in office, or failure to perform his duties. The Commission may also charge that a judge is physically or mentally unable to perform his duties. The Commission has subpoena power and the authority to appoint and direct its staff. Investigations of the Commission are confidential.

The Commission is composed of one appellate judge appointed by the Supreme Court, two circuit judges appointed by the Association of Circuit Judges, two attorneys appointed by the State Board of Bar Commissioners, and two non-lawyer citizens appointed by the Governor. Commission members are appointed for terms of four years and serve without pay.

During 1986, the Judicial Inquiry Commission considered 120 complaints which resulted in 25 investigations. Of this number, 94 complaints were without sufficient cause or basis; 12 were outside the jurisdiction of the Commission; four complaints were resolved by the Commission through meeting with the judge in question; two complaints were resolved when the judges in question retired; and eight complaints are pending.

Since its creation in 1973, the Judicial Inquiry Commission has considered 1,107 complaints. Of these complaints, 299 resulted in investigations. Sixty-three complaints were found to have insufficient evidence; 279 were without sufficient cause or basis; 650 were outside the jurisdiction of the Commission; 13 complaints were cancelled; 54 complaints were resolved by the Commission through meeting with the judge in question; and five complaints were resolved when the judge in question retired. Eighteen complaints were resolved by the filing of formal charges with the Court of the Judiciary.

COURT OF THE JUDICIARY

The Court of the Judiciary is a five-member body which hears complaints filed by the Judicial Inquiry Commission. The Court is composed of one appellate judge who is selected by the Supreme Court and serves as chief judge of the Court, two circuit judges appointed by the Association of Circuit Judges, and two members of the state bar appointed by the Board of Bar Commissioners.

The Court has the authority, after notice and public hearing, to remove from office, suspend without pay, censure, or apply such other sanctions as prescribed by law to any judge for a violation of a canon of judicial ethics, misconduct in office, or failure to perform his duties. The Court may also suspend, with or without pay, or retire a judge who is physically or mentally unable to perform his duties. Decisions of the Court of the Judiciary may be appealed to the State Supreme Court which reviews the record of proceedings on the law and the facts. The Supreme Court adopts rules governing the procedures of the Court. Counsel for the prosecution of cases before the Court is provided by the state attorney general's office. The clerk of the Court of Civil Appeals serves as secretary of the Court of the Judiciary.

Two complaints were filed with the Court during 1986. One was disposed in May and the other will be heard in early 1987.

JUDICIAL COMPENSATION COMMISSION

Alabama's Judicial Compensation Commission is a constitutional body charged with recommending the state salary and expense allowances to be paid all judges, except municipal and probate judges.

The Commission may submit a report to the legislature at any time within the first five calendar days of any session. To become effective, the report of the Commission must be confirmed by a joint resolution of both houses. The legislature may, by act, alter the Commission's recommendations.

The Commission consists of five members appointed for terms of four years: one appointed by the governor; one by the president of the senate; one by the speaker of the house; and two by the Board of Bar Commissioners. Members of the Judicial Compensation Commission cannot hold any other public or political party office nor can they be eligible for appointment to any state judicial office while serving or within two years of serving on the Commission.

The Commission's report to the 1986 regular session of the legislature recommended that the state's circuit judges receive whatever percentage increase might be provided to state employees generally, but in any event, an amount not lower than ten percent. The Commission recommended that the salaries of appellate and district justices and judges be fixed as has been designated by state law. State employees did not receive a salary increase in 1986 and the legislature did not act on the report of the Commission.

JUDICIAL STUDY COMMISSION

In 1971, the Alabama Legislature created a study commission on the Alabama judicial system for the purpose of continuously studying "the judicial system of the state, the courts of the state, the administration of justice in Alabama, criminal rehabilitation, criminal punishment methods and procedures, and all matters relating, directly or indirectly to the administration of justice in Alabama and [making] recommendations thereto."

The Judicial Study Commission is a 32-member body. Membership includes the lieutenant governor, speaker of the house, the legal advisor to the governor, a member of the attorney general's staff, six members of the state senate, six members of the state house of representatives, and the members of the Judicial Conference. The Judicial Conference is composed of the chief justice of the Alabama Supreme Court, two associate justices, a judge from each intermediate court of appeals, three circuit judges, two district judges, two municipal judges, three lawyers, and one probate judge.

In addition, an advisory section consisting of three clerks and registers, three district attorneys, and three law enforcement officials has been established.

The Act provides that bonds may not be sold until after February 1, 1987.

There is also included a special provision that to be eligible for reimbursement, such moves must be made within a reasonable time, not to exceed one year from the date of transfer.
